

AN UNINTENDED absurdity of the quota law was illustrated by the plight of an Australian lady, engaged to an Australian lady, who had been coming to the United States for some time, but because she did not come within the infinitesimal quota which the law allows to Australia. Of course, nobody intended that the immigration law should discriminate against Australia.

We should not object if the entire Australian population moved over bodily. There are good and bad people in Australia, as everywhere, but even the bad ones are exactly like our home-grown bad ones, and would present no new problem of assimilation.

We could assimilate the entire Australian nation faster than all the ships on the Pacific could bring them over. They are scarcely more foreign than Canadians. It is the mere mathematical application of a formula, designed to discriminate against Eastern Europe, that shuts out the Australians.

The intention was to slow up immigration from the slowly assimilable peoples, who had been coming faster than they could be absorbed into American life, while favoring the rapidly assimilable ones. In the case of Australians and New Zealanders, it has just the contrary effect.

It is not possible, while still keeping to the formula device, to liberalize the language test. Knowledge of English is one of the elements of rapid assimilation. There would be no danger of swamping us by any probable immigration from the English-speaking world, and individuals from other lands who knew English well would be few, and these few would be either of a desirable class or would be easily subject to exclusion on other grounds.

It is not certain that there are any "inferior" and "superior" peoples, at least among the civilized races. Certainly there can be no hereditary superiority in those of British, Teutonic or Celtic ancestry over those of Green or Roman ancestry.

All tests so far made, if there is any "superior" race, it is the Jews. And the Chinese, having long since starved their incapables, average a good second. But there are certainly assimilable and non-assimilable peoples.

A nation has built up a certain civilization, based on certain customs, institutions and ideals. These may be no better or worse than other civilizations, but they are different. It speaks a certain language, and its people are of a certain physical race.

These things determine the degree of assimilability. Such a nation can assimilate almost instantly others of its own race and language. It can assimilate rapidly those of the same race and of similar institutions, and of related, though different, language.

FRENCH SHELL ANCIENT CITY TO QUELL RIOT

Arabs Estimate That Casualties Because of Bombardment Total 25,000

BUILDINGS ARE RUINED

Historic Structures Are Reduced to Mass of Debris By Heavy Artillery Fire

(By United Press)
LONDON, Oct. 28.—Jerusalem dispatches today stated French sources believe at least 1000 persons were killed in the recent French bombardment of Damascus, while the Arabs estimate that as many as 25,000 casualties resulted from the French quelling of a native rebellion in the ancient city.

Damascus is reported badly damaged, many of its picturesque structures piled in ruins. Out of the city came reports that the French guns wrought this havoc, but the French themselves claim that vandals within the town were responsible.

Storming Rebels Repelled
The rebels, according to reports reaching here, attempted to storm public buildings, but were repulsed. However, they succeeded in burning the beautiful Azam palace, housing the Moslem museum. This act of vandalism was apparently by mistake, for the mobs are reported to have believed that General Sarraff, French commissioner for Syria, was making his headquarters there.

While the French claim that vandalism was to blame for the havoc within the town, they admit that between October 18 and 20 they pounded the city with artillery, airplanes, tanks and machine-guns. Barbed-wire was stretched for a mile through the southern section of the city to keep the fighting localized.

While it is difficult to obtain exact figures on the losses, it was deemed significant that a semi-official French newspaper in Beirut allowed to be printed Arab estimates of 3000 killed in Damascus. French Ask Reinforcements
Paris dispatches reported that Sarraff has asked for 15,000 reinforcements, inasmuch as fresh outbreaks are feared. Foreigners and civilians have been asked to quit the city as a precautionary measure.

The foreign consuls at Damascus have sent a collective note to the French authorities amounting to a protest against the bombardment and serving probably as a basis for later claims for damage to foreign property.

It is said to be confirmed that the French warned their own nationals to quit the city without, however, taking the same precaution as to other foreigners, in Damascus.

Young Bandits Rob Three Society Women

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—A pair of youthful bandits waylaid three Los Angeles society women early today and robbed them of jewelry valued at more than $50,000.

Mrs. E. M. Smith, wife of the president of the Pacific National bank, was the heaviest loser. She was forced to give the bandits, among other valuable gems, a strand of pearls valued at $30,000. Mrs. Smith's companions, Mrs. J. McAdams and Mrs. J. H. Clark were robbed of diamond rings and other valuable jewelry.

The three women were returning from a theater party when the robbers, described as young and nervous, held them up at the point of huge revolvers and divested them of the expensive array of gems.

Painleve Is To Organize New Cabinet

PARIS, Oct. 28.—Paul Painleve this evening accepted the commission of President Doumergue to form a new cabinet to succeed his previous cabinet.

(By United Press)
PARIS, Oct. 28.—President Doumergue this afternoon summoned Paul Painleve to form a new cabinet, following the resignation of the old Painleve cabinet as a means of ousting Finance Minister Caillaux from political life.

While the French claim that vandalism was to blame for the havoc within the town, they admit that between October 18 and 20 they pounded the city with artillery, airplanes, tanks and machine-guns. Barbed-wire was stretched for a mile through the southern section of the city to keep the fighting localized.

Athens Suspends Orders To Forces to Withdraw From Occupied Region

PROTESTS TO BRIAND Further Complications in Balkans Anticipated As Hostilities Are Resumed

(By United Press)
ATHENS, Oct. 28.—Fighting across the Bulgarian frontier has ceased and the Greek government has renewed its orders to its troops to withdraw to Greece.

(By United Press)
ATHENS, Oct. 28.—Bulgars have attacked the left flank of the Greek columns retreating from Bulgarian soil and the Greeks, in consequence, have ordered a suspension of the withdrawal, which had been begun in accordance with the orders of the League of Nations council.

The Greeks had started carrying out the order of the League of Nations council and fulfilling the retirement agreement reached through Rumanian mediation, and expected to be completely out of the occupied territory by 8 o'clock Friday morning, when the time limit for withdrawal expires.

(The League of Nations council orders require that the evacuation shall be complete on Thursday, this perhaps refers to the time limit set in the Rumanian mediation.)

Thousands of Bulgarian comitadits (irregulars) are reported massed outside Petrich (Petritsi). It is feared they may attack the retreating forces, thus causing fresh complications.

LEAGUE HEARS OF TROOP WITHDRAWAL

GENEVA, Oct. 28.—The League of Nations secretariat was informed today that Greece had ordered withdrawal of her troops behind her own frontier in full conformity with the council's orders. Bulgaria sent to the council at Paris yesterday word that she had ordered hostilities to end.

BULGARS ATTACK GREEK SOLDIERS

LONDON, Oct. 28.—An Exchange Telegraph telegram from Saloniki today reported that the Bulgarians this morning attacked the withdrawing Greek forces. It was believed at Saloniki that the evacuation of Bulgaria by the Greeks had ceased.

GOVERNOR SILENT ON FRICTION AT PEN

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—Gov. Friend W. Richardson today refused to comment on the reported break between Warden Frank J. Smith, of San Quentin penitentiary, and George A. Van Smith, president of the board of prison directors.

Smith issued an order to prison officials yesterday, declaring that anyone taking orders from others than himself in the performance of prison duties would be discharged. The order is said to have resulted from recent actions of Van Smith in issuing instructions to minor prison officials at San Quentin.

Thomas M. Gannon, member of the board of prison directors, also denied any knowledge of the break between Warden Smith and President Van Smith, declaring that, so far as he knew, Warden Smith and the board of prison directors were working in perfect harmony.

Accuse Man of Trying to Steal Cops' Car

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 28.—Charles Fessenden was under arrest here today for attempting to steal the police department's armored automobile. Fessenden is said to have pretended intoxication when Detective E. L. Roberts and Walter Nelson found him attempting to start the car, which had been parked in front of a residence while they responded to a burglar call.

Severe Cold Continues in Middle West

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—A heavy blanket of snow covered the middle west today, with several sections reporting sub-zero weather. October cold records were shattered.

In Valentine, Neb., the thermometer fell to a low mark of 4 below zero. The Chicago and Northwestern railroad reported temperature ranging from zero to 5 below on its Black Hills S. D. division. The mercury dropped to 8 above in Omaha, the coldest October weather in many years. A negro laborer was frozen to death.

Snow from three to eight inches was reported from Iowa. A new October low of 7 degrees above zero was recorded.

Snow was general in Wisconsin, with the thermometer at 22 above, a new record.

Chicago measured four inches of snow and the thermometer fell to a record October low of 19 degrees. Other Illinois cities reported extreme cold for October.

Missouri was swept by the first snow of the season. Thermometers registered 24 degrees.

There were snow flurries in Minnesota. The temperature rose to 26 above, following a low of 21 above yesterday.

Snow fell today in Indianapolis and other Indiana cities. The temperature at 8 a. m. was 23, coldest of the season.

Rising temperatures may be expected during the next 24 hours, the weather bureau said.

NORFOLK, Neb., Oct. 28.—Rapid City, S. D., was believed to be the coldest spot in the United States today. The temperature there fell to 13 degrees below zero at 8 a. m., according to reports received by the Northwestern Bell Telephone company there.

CLUBS PREPARE FOR ACTION ON PARK QUESTION

More Than 20 Civic Groups Represented at Council Organization Gathering

IDEAS ARE EXPRESSED

Delegates Unanimous in Arguments That Recreation Grounds Are Great Need

WITH the single idea of bringing about an early realization of what was considered to be Santa Ana's chief civic need, parks and playgrounds, the Santa Ana Inter-Club council, whose members represented more than a score of civic and service clubs, were brought into being last night at a meeting held in Ketter's cafe.

The outstanding results can be summed up as follows:
1. A unified declaration on the part of representatives that the early acquirement of parks and playgrounds is of vital importance to the development of Santa Ana.

2. Agreement on the part of delegates that a bond issue is necessary to provide funds for the carrying out of an extensive parks and playgrounds program.

3. Decision to draw up and adopt a blanket resolution covering in detail the requirements of a complete parks and playground program.

4. Decision to submit this blanket resolution of the Inter-Club council and the endorsements thereof by distinctive organizations before the city board of trustees with a request that a bond election be called to provide funds to carry out the program.

Stanley Clem, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who acted as temporary chairman, was elected president of the council, and Bruce Switzer, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was made secretary.

After prolonged discussion on the matter of the proper method for procedure, Jack Wallace, representing the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, moved that the committee on a blanket resolution, covering the entire parks and playgrounds project, be named. Wallace suggested that the blanket resolution then be submitted for rejection or approval to the respective clubs. The motion was passed unanimously and President Clem named A. N. Zerman, representing the Kiwanis club, as chairman, with the following members: J. A. Cranston, Santa Ana public schools; Mrs. W. L. Deimling, Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Ebell club and park commissioner, and L. L. Archibald, Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

This committee was instructed to make an exhaustive survey of the needs of Santa Ana as regards recreational centers for adults and children and to report at the next meeting, to be held at 6:30 Tuesday night, November 3, in Ketter's cafe.

Delegates Express Selves
Individual delegates were called upon by the president to express themselves concerning the question being considered and without exception the plan for immediate action toward securing parks and playgrounds was approved heartily. The expression of opinion was marked by a sincerity taken to indicate the seriousness with which the respective speakers viewed the problem.

One of the strongest supporters of the Inter-Club council and the plan for parks and playgrounds was Mrs. Grubb, member of the Santa Ana park commission. Mrs. Grubb declared herself heartily in accord with the plan and recited some of the difficulties under which the present park board and previous

Utah Betting Law Is Held Illegal

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 28.—Holding that horse racing and pari mutuel betting on the results of races, as conducted in Utah under the terms of the Redd racing bill, constitute a game of mixed chance and skill, with the element of chance predominating, and that the title of the race track betting act is defective, Judge L. B. Wright, of the third district court, has handed down a decision holding the betting section of the act unconstitutional. Judge Wright's decision was in the form of a denial of the petition of the Utah State Fair association and others interested in racing and betting at the state fair grounds for an order restraining the commissioners of Salt Lake City from enforcing an ordinance of the city prohibiting betting on horse races.

Rail Wreck Death Total Reaches 19

(By United Press)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 28.—The death toll in the wreck of the Frisco line's Florida-to-Kansas City flyer, the "Sunnyland," mounted to 19 today, as three more victims died during the night in Memphis hospitals.

P. J. Sandy, of Amorv, Miss., a brakeman, and Yonque Jordan, 12, and Arthur Jordan, 10, of Carroll, Ga., were added to those who were killed outright or died shortly after the "Sunnyland" went down a 20-foot embankment at Victoria, Miss., early Tuesday.

A dozen of those injured still were in a serious condition in hospitals here. Several are expected to die. About 50 others were less seriously injured.

A "blister" in a rail caused the disaster, it was officially announced today.

Delayed Marriage Is to Take Place

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 28.—Although relatives of Courtland Dines make no statement regarding his coming marriage to Miss Ruth Gibson today, it is believed that the ceremony will take place soon, following issuance of a marriage license to the couple here yesterday.

Dines is a wealthy broker and clubman and Miss Gibson is prominent in local social circles. Their failure to be married last week-end, as announced, caused considerable comment here.

Dines leaped into the spotlight when a chauffeur for Mabel Normand, film actress, shot him in Los Angeles, while he was entertaining her and Edna Purviance, another screen player.

Postmaster Quits; Shortage In Funds

REEDLEY, Calif., Oct. 28.—Postmaster R. E. Matthews, of Reedley, announced today that he has resigned his postmastership as a result of discrepancies in the accounts of the Reedley postoffice, for which Assistant Postmaster Guy W. Stull was dismissed.

Matthews admitted that he had been asked to resign, but declared that he had placed too much trust in his assistant.

Major General Howse, Presiding Officer, Insists on Trial Being Speeded Up

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—The defense won the first skirmish in the court-martial proceedings against Colonel William Mitchell today when Brig. Gen. Albert J. Bowley, court member, was removed from the general court on grounds of prejudice. The trial of Mitchell on charges growing out of his attacks on management of the air service opened today.

Representative Frank R. Reid, Illinois, Mitchell's civilian counsel, next challenged Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerville, president of the court, quoting recent speeches by Summerville and his testimony before the President's air board to show he could not be fair to the aviation crisis.

Summerville withdrew from the court and Reid challenged Maj. Gen. Fred W. Slayden, superintendent of the U. S. military academy at West Point. General Slayden withdrew, cutting the membership of the court from its original strength of 13 to 10.

The vacancies will not be filled and the trial proceeded after Summerville's withdrawal, with 10 members on the court instead of the 13 originally appointed.

Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howse, commandant of the fifth corps area and senior officer after the removal, was named presiding officer.

Howse suggested that in the future continuous sessions be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until 3 in the afternoon. Reid objected to this and suggested meetings from 10 until noon and from 2 until 4. This was agreed to.

"The interests of all concerned," said Howse, "demand that the case move with great rapidity."

Challenging Trial Authority.
The authority and power of the court-martial to try Colonel Mitchell was challenged at the afternoon session.

Representative Reid, Mitchell's counsel, asserted that Mitchell had not committed a breach of military law nor violated the articles of war. He declared that the charges and specifications in their present form "are not cognizable by this court-martial."

"The making of these statements by Colonel Mitchell," Reid said, "constituted no offense over which this court-martial has jurisdiction."

Reid also claimed that Mitchell was within his constitutional rights in expressing his opinion on any public question.

"The soldier has the same rights under the constitution as any civilian has," he said. "He has freedom of religion and many other rights and I maintain that he has the right of free speech."

"Has the principal pillar of free government, free speech, been taken from the soldiers? Are soldiers really people within the constitution? That is a question that must be decided."

At the foot of Capitol hill, in an old warehouse, the court-martial, convened at the order of President Coolidge, met to try Mitchell for conduct "prejudicial to good order and discipline." Mitchell was placed under arrest at his home shortly after breakfast this morning and confined to the jurisdiction of the court.

Prosecution counsel read the specifications and charges against Mitchell. This included the lengthy statement issued by Col. Mitchell at San Antonio, following the Shenandoah disaster, which was the real basis of the present action.

Charges Criminal Negligence.
In this statement, Mitchell charged the war and navy departments with "criminal negligence and almost treasonable administration of the national defense."

The court room was packed by a squad of enlisted men, who also guarded the door with an iron rule. When the spectators' seats were filled immediately after the opening of the court, the doors were closed and no one was allowed to stand except photographers and the soldier guard.

Mitchell was required to stand while the specifications were being read by Lt. Col. J. I. McMillen, who also stood.

Reid sought to interject a motion to quash the charges after the San Antonio statement was read, but Howse insisted that the entire list had to be read into the record before such a motion could be entertained.

It developed that the lengthy San Antonio statement had to be read in connection with each specification based on it.

OUSTED STATE OFFICIAL SEEKS $50,000 DAMAGES

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Fifty thousand dollars damage to his character by reason of false arrest is alleged in a suit on file here today by Joseph M. Goldman, ousted appraiser, against John F. Johnson, state banking superintendent.

Goldman's suit cites his arrest in June on complaint of Johnson that he had embezzled department funds, and his subsequent liberation from the charges after a hearing in court.

In addition to $50,000 damages, Goldman asks $600 attorney's fees and costs in the June case and costs and attorney's fees in the present action.

Renewed interest in the Fresno Valley bank case and the "Wrightwood" Southern California land case is expected to come from Goldman's suit. New evidence bearing upon Johnson's alleged activity in the bank sale and his reported interest in the "Wrightwood" realty transaction may come out of documents that Goldman plans to use as evidence.

Sigmund J. Janas, former assistant to Johnson, arrested with Goldman on similar charges, was expected also to file a damage action against the banking superintendent. Janas was cleared of the Johnson charges.

park boards have been laboring. Birch park, which Mrs. Grubb said was very susceptible to embellishment, and a triangular plot of ground on French street were represented as making up the city's entire park system at the present time.

"The chief duty of the park commission has been to hire and fire the caretaker at Birch park," she said. "We have been urged by the trustees to do that. Our weighty petitions for aid always are very courteously received by the city council and ordered filed. We have a petition before the council now in which we ask that a member of the council and a representative of the street department act with us in carrying out certain steps, but we have no idea that the petition will receive any other than the reception that has been given our former petitions."

Mrs. Grubb said that $15,000 would be required to put Birch park in proper condition. The landstand is out of place, the grass is nearly worn out, the seats are shabby, she said, but the present levy of one mill on the dollar of taxable wealth will not allow the work to be carried out.

"Filled With Shame"

"Regardless of what else we do, let us see to it that Birch park is properly and decently equipped," Mrs. Grubb continued. "When I compare Santa Ana's park facilities with those of other California cities of the same class I am filled with shame. I was informed by a representative of a national parks association that Santa Ana has the poorest park system and the lowest tax rate of more than 20 Southern cities of the fifth class. Many cities have a rate of $2 per capita for parks. Pasadena has a $5 rate. Santa Ana has a five cent rate."

In the opinion of Mrs. Deimling, parks are needed, if for no other reason, to afford adult Mexicans a place in which to gather instead of roaming listlessly upon the streets. She said that the juvenile court records showed that parks were a good investment from the angle of crime prevention.

"Prevention of crime through attractive public parks is better than the cure of crime through jails," according to Mrs. Deimling, who added that her organization would supply 50 house-to-house canvassers to get out the voters on the day of the bond election and for such campaign work as was needed before the vote was called.

In the opinion of Horace Fine, veteran Santa Ana newspaper man, the question of the need of parks and playgrounds in Santa Ana is not debatable. Fine declared that several city boards of trustees in the early life of Santa Ana had been given the opportunity to purchase close-in tracts of ground for the purpose of creating a park but that no board had possessed the vision to make the deal. He cited the instance of the offer, years ago, of what was known as the Harlin tract, between the business section and the Santa Fe depot.

"The time has come for Santa Ana to go to bat on this question. The main thing is to get the land. The money for the maintenance will come later on," Fine commented.

2 Sites Recommended

L. L. Archibald, member of the park committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, reported that his committee had tentatively recommended two sites for Santa Ana parks, one of them located on Edinger street, in the southwest part of the city, and the other, known as the Ford tract, in the northeast section of the city, fronting on Ross street.

Speaking as the president of the Northwest Improvement and Development association, L. E. Martin urged the creation of a chain of small parks in addition to the two major parks, as suggested by the park committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. Martin went on to say that the people of this section of the city thoroughly were behind the project and that the members of the Northwest Improvement and Development association would do all in their power to assist in the passage of the bond issue.

"The longer we put this thing off the worse we will be," declared A. N. Zerman. "Let us be specific in our bond call and say exactly where the money is to go. The acquisition of the parks will create values that will more than offset the amount of taxes."

That the increasing danger to school children from traffic accidents is sufficient to demand that some action be taken to afford the children of the city space in which to play, was the view expressed by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools. The safety of children city schools. The safety of children city schools. The safety of children city schools.

Face Serious Problems

Jack Wallace, as a member of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, called attention to the fact that there are several very serious problems facing Santa Ana irrespective of the parks and playgrounds question. He stressed, particularly, the questions of zoning and water development. He agreed, however, that the parks and playgrounds question was the proper one on which to concentrate and to carry out successfully before the other problems were attacked.

Clem, in calling the meeting to order, explained the purpose of the proposed co-ordination move and went on to say that the time was not far distant when Santa Ana would have to go to the city limits for space or tear down valuable buildings in order to acquire parks and playgrounds. He said that the time was ripe for action and that the future of the children of Santa Ana demanded it be taken.

Clem was followed by Switzer, who gave expression to the idea that the women of the city, through personal contact, could be extremely influential in insuring the success of the proposed parks and playground bond issue.

Dr. C. D. Ball devoted much of his talk to a recital of the need for a new public library and an increased library tax. With the exception of two small rooms, which have been rented across the street from the present public library, Dr. Ball said Santa Ana had not expanded its library since it was a town of 4000 people. Dr. Ball urged the erection of a fire-proof library building in a civic center to be grouped around the present library site and to include the courthouse and the hall of records. He said he realized the utmost importance of parks, however, and would aid in the campaign to pass the bonds.

Aid Is Promised

"I have been called upon by 3000 parents to see to it that Santa Ana has more parks and playgrounds and I can assure you of the support of that many members of my organization in your bond issue campaign," Mrs. Fay Spangler, representing the Santa Ana federation of Parent-Teachers association, averred. Her statement was applauded loudly.

A. B. Roussele ventured the opinion that no place has fewer parks than Santa Ana. Roussele declared the passage of the bond issue would require more than "moral support." He expressed the view that the city council would not hesitate to call the bond election if the central council representing the clubs and civic associations of the city would take the lead.

The following were present for the formation of the council:

Mrs. W. L. Deimling, Daughters of American Revolution; A. N. Zerman, Kiwanis club; E. U. Fowler, landscape architect; Mrs. Eugene Robinson, American Legion auxiliary; M. A. Patton, Rotary club; J. E. Livezey, Realty board; H. S. Samuel, Lions club; W. Floyd Croddy, Exchange club; A. B. Roussele, Kiwanis club; Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Ebell club, park commission; Justus Birtcher, planning commission; Mrs. Fay Spangler, Santa Ana Parent-Teachers association federation; Flake Smith, Junior Chamber of Commerce; C. D. Ball, library board; L. W. Archer, public schools; H. G. Nelson, Kiwanis club; J. A. Cranston, city schools; Bruce E. Switzer, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Stanley Clem, Junior Chamber of Commerce; L. L. Archibald, Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; E. Merle Husong and Horace Fine of the Register staff and Carl Mock and L. E. Martin.

Youth Arrives From Arctic to Serve Sentence

A. Kemper, Balboa youth came all the way from Alaska to serve five days in the Orange county jail for speeding. That is, as soon as he returned from Alaska he checked in at the jail and is there now, "doing time." Kemper was arrested on April 9 by Constable Jesse Elliott, at the intersection of the Huntington Beach and Newport boulevards, and given a ticket, charging him with speeding 50 miles an hour.

Two days later he was scheduled to leave on a boat for Alaska, so Judge Kenneth Morrison took a chance and allowed him to make his trip, providing that he appeared at the jail as soon as he returned.

Kemper made good. His boat docked in Southern California Monday, and last night, fresh from the arctic regions, he walked into the jail and said: "Here I am. Lock me up."

LOS ANGELES
The Once Over

DOCTORS ORDERED TO TURN OVER BOOKS OF PRESCRIPTIONS
FOR CHECKING—In an effort to halt the procurement of liquors by illegal use of medical prescriptions, scores of Los Angeles physicians have been ordered to turn in their books of official liquor prescriptions, federal officials announced. Ultimately, a check will be made of every outstanding prescription book, and an entire change of form will be used in an effort to thwart certain unscrupulous physicians and druggists, and the counterfeiters who are declared to have reaped golden harvest by making up "prescription books" in wholesale quantities.

VIRGIN FOREST AND BRUSH
LAND IN L. A. COUNTY
VALUED AT $631,150,000—Figures, according to the appraiser, are tres-some, but if some weary old prospector were to drift into town with his burro and make the statement that the hills of Los Angeles county hide a bonanza of $631,150,000 in gold there would doubtless be the greatest rush of fortune hunters to the Southland that history might ever record.
There has been no such strike of yellow metal and, consequently, there will be no such rush of gold seekers as that mentioned, but the huge figure set forth above is the value experts have fixed on the approximately 650,000 acres of virgin forest and brush land that lie within the boundaries of Los Angeles county.

DELAYED SEVEN HOURS BY FOG HUGE CUNARD LINER MAKES PORT — Delayed seven hours by fog, the 22,000-ton around-the-world Cunard liner Car-ruthia made port Sunday afternoon. Scarcely had the vessel made fast before most of her 279 passengers flocked ashore and set out in a fleet of giant automotive parlor cars for the brief glimpse of Southern California afforded before the ship sailed at midnight for San Francisco and the Orient.
The majority headed for motion picture studio regions, Pasadena, orange groves and metropolitan Los Angeles, to wind up for dinner at the Ambassador hotel. Others set out for Santa Barbara on the overland route to rejoin the ship at San Francisco Tuesday morning.

JUDGE CLARK, CANDIDATE FOR G. O. P. NOMINATION TO
SENATE, BACK FROM S. F.—
Robert M. Clarke, former judge of the superior court, returned from San Francisco where he spent three days conferring with political leaders of the north. His campaign for the Republican nomination for the U. S. senate from California at the primaries next August was discussed. Judge Clark was accompanied on the trip by Robert E. Camarillo, former assistant U. S. attorney for the southern district of California, and Jack Scanlon, publicity manager of the judge's campaign. During next month the judge will outline his plans for an intensive speaking campaign in behalf of his candidacy.

303 N. MAIN ST. SANTA ANANATIONAL WEEK
FOR EDUCATION
TO BE OBSERVEDWith the promised co-operation of the various city P. T. A. organizations, J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, is preparing a general program for observance of American Education week, November 15 to 22. It was announced today at the board of education offices.According to Superintendent Cranston, local interest in this year's observance of the national event promises to exceed that of previous years. He called attention to the fact that President
Coolidge has again issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the nation to observe the week in a fitting manner.The program, now being prepared by Superintendent Cranston, it was intimated, will not only cover the various activities of the public schools, but also emphasize their needs. In this work, he is assisted by D. K. Hammond, principal of the high school; H. G. Nelson, principal of the Julia Lathrop junior high school; W. S. Kellogg, principal of the Frances E. Willard junior high school, and the principals of the various grammar schools.Voicing approval of the steps taken by the local school authorities to observe the national event, Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, president of the Santa Ana city federation of P. T. A., said that it hardly seems necessary to urge upon the members of the P. T. A. to join in a general observance, thus promoting the cause of free public education through American Education week."KERNELS"
BY THE COLONELWANTED—Some one to tell the county board of supervisors, the Chambers of Commerce and others just what site to select for the proposed Orange county race track and fair grounds.Anaheim wants it in one place, Santa Ana in another and all other towns in still another; so the informant must not be a resident of any town in the county.On top of that, he has to be a resident of Orange county or it is none of his business where the fair ground and race track are located.Folks living in Orange county, but not in any Orange county town, will not be considered, as the powers that be will not think the influence of residents outside of centers of large population great enough to give weight to their opinions.Although one suggestion offered, that the fair ground race track be located on a fleet of barges just off the Newport harbor, has not been considered by the supervisors, it is thought that as a last resort this plan may receive serious consideration.Another plan offered, that the fair site be equipped with roller skates, so that it can be moved from one section of the county to another, thereby giving all the people a chance to have it for their own, seems at the present time to be most in favor with the board.WHAT AMERICA NEEDS

Says Wife Deserted Him.

Alleging that his wife deserted him, George E. Coombes today had a divorce suit on file in superior court against Mrs. Marion F.
Coombes. The couple married at Skaneateles, N. Y., in 1919. They separated in 1924. Coombes asks custody of their son, aged 4. Mrs.
Coombes has possession of their daughter, aged 2. Attorney S. M.

Following his arrest, Callahan was granted probation, but violated it by going out with girls, his wife said. Finally, she alleged, he was sent to the Preston School of Industry, at Ione.At present there are approximately half a hundred labor colleges in the United States.

hygienic problem now solved. A new and different way

THE old-time "sanitary pad" is fast becoming a rarity. Millions are discarding it as a needless hazard. "KOTEX", a new and remarkable way, is now used by 8 in 10 better class women.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear.

It deodorizes, too. And thus stops ALL danger of offending.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX".

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Daughters of Veterans are planning for a large crowd at the Halloween tea which they will present Friday afternoon at G.A.R. hall at 2 o'clock. Mrs. C. H. Lurker, chairman of the general committee, with her competent aides, has announced a general playtime for the first hour and a most entertaining program to begin at 3 o'clock.

This will offer readings, songs, music and the famous "Frivolity Five" from Frances Willard Junior high school who with their charming, youthful charm and much musical ability will present a little act of varied features. Refreshments will follow the program, and a silver offering will be taken to add to the fund with which the daughters do such a great amount of good.

Sponsored by the local Knights, will be a Halloween mask parade at Knights of Columbus hall Friday beginning at 8 o'clock p. m. An interesting program is being planned by the committee in charge and prizes for the cleverest costumes will be awarded.

The newly organized Arts and Crafts section of Ebbl society will meet at the clubhouse tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and all Ebbl members interested in decorative work are extended an invitation to be present and enjoy the class.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church has completed plans for the card party to be held tonight at K. of C. hall where a cordial welcome awaits all who wish to enjoy an evening of cards. Attractive prizes will be awarded winners and home-made refreshments will be served. Proceeds will be devoted to a worthy cause.

Combined Masonic organizations of the city will again offer their splendid hospitality Friday night when a card party and dance will be presented at the temple at 8:30 o'clock by the social committee whose members are drawn from individual chapters. This committee is composed of Carl Mock, W. W. Clevenger, Asa Hoffman and Fred Merker. Mr. and Mrs. Clevenger will have charge of the card tables in the chapter room. In the ball room the favorite Chapman orchestra will play and Haloween features will be introduced. The party is for all Masons and Eastern Stars and their families.

Mrs. Lillian Warner of Tustin will be hostess to the Santa Ana O. E. S. Bridge club at Kethers' gold room Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Those unable to attend are asked to call 1456-W.

On Sunday night at the First Christian church, the Young Married People's class of the Sunday school will give a play at 7 o'clock in lieu of the usual services conducted by the pastor, the Rev. F. T. Porter.

The play will be "Larola," directed by Mrs. F. T. Porter, and with Ruth O. Nicholson taking the title role. The scene is laid in the mission bungalow at Palmdale, Brngal, India. Added program features will include vocal, flute and xylophone solos and a violin quartette. A silver offering will go to the class fund for missionary work.

A jolly tacky party and Haloween celebration will be given Thursday evening at Modern Woodman hall, when the Fraternal Brotherhood will entertain members and friends in merry fashion.

Everybody is urged to go in costume, as it adds greatly to the joyous abandon of the affair. Dancing will be the diversion for the evening and the committee has provided good music and will serve light refreshments for the merry-makers. Those in charge hope that everybody interested in having a good time will mark the date down on their calendars.

The Philathea class of the First Baptist church is to have a class party at the home of Mrs. J. V. Harris, 506 East Fifth street, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Santa Ana City Federation of P. T. A. will hold a meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parish room at the Church of the Messiah. Miss Jennie Lasby and Maj. Robert Lee will be the speakers of the evening. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Santa Ana High school and Junior college P. T. A. will hold a father's meeting and reception for the teachers Tuesday evening, November 3, at 8 o'clock at Ebbl clubhouse. Everyone is invited to be present in order to become acquainted with the teachers.

Santa Ana Violinist Aids on Program of Exclusive Club

With the opening of autumnal social activities, there is a like re-vivifying of all club affairs and the arts likewise have an increased interest for their patrons. In line with this resumption of activities, was the meeting of the famous St. Cecilia club in Los Angeles Monday when two artists well-known in this city and one of whom, Santa Ana is proud to claim as her own, appeared on the program.

They were Olline Enlow Matthews whose wizard bow has charmed countless audiences throughout the southland ever since she forsok the concert stage and became a resident of this city, and Hulda Dietz who, while being an Angelenan, is so closely connected with musical affairs in Santa Ana that a very friendly little feeling of possessive pride in her voice is left by all her friends here.

The St. Cecilia club is composed of musicians many of whom are very well known indeed and all of whom are artists. Their standards are of the highest, so it is considered one of the highest compliments to be asked to appear on one of their programs. The Monday meeting was at the home of Mrs. Jacquith in Los Angeles and the reception given the Santa Ana artists was most flattering.

Mrs. Matthews in addition to her large class of pupils in this city, finds time to keep up her classes at the Christian college in Los Angeles where she is a member of the teaching staff.

Is Charter Member Of Phi Beta Chapter

Miss Dorothy Sammis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Sammis, 216 East Washington avenue, is a charter member of the Phi Beta, women's national music and dramatics fraternity, which will form the twelfth chapter, to be installed November 1 and called No chapter, located at the Southern Branch, University of California. Miss Sammis will graduate from this institution with the class of 1927.

Phi Beta was instituted in 1911 at Northwestern University. Eleven chapters are organized in musical and art colleges throughout the United States. A national fund for a Phi Beta cottage at the MacDowell Art colony at Perborough, New Hampshire, will be started by the organization.

A formal reception in honor of the new chapter will be held at Southern Branch on November 1, when the installation ceremonies will be in charge of Carol McMillan of Alpha chapter, Northwestern college and Lambda chapter, U. S. C.

Realizing the importance of the new chapter, the following have signified their intention of becoming associate members: Mrs. W. J. Kraft, wife of the musical advisor; Dean Laughlin, Miss Evelyn Thomas, Dr. Margaret Carhart and Mrs. M. S. Darsie, wife of the dean of the Teachers' college. The new chapter's officers are: President, Mrs. W. J. Kraft, faculty advisor; Charles Wakefield Cadman, L. E. Behymer, Homer Grunn, Vernon Spencer, Hugo Kirkhofer, Adolph Tandler, John Smallman, Carl Bronson, Freda Peycke, Mrs. W. A. Mabey, president of the Wa Wan club, and Mrs. Abbie Norton Jamison.

Primary Kindergarten Club Meeting

The Primary Kindergarten club met Monday at Roosevelt school for a very interesting meeting. The club is composed of teachers from Santa Ana, Tustin and Costa Mesa. There was a short business meeting over which Miss Martha Belle Pugh presided. Miss Linda Paul was elected historian and it was found that the club had increased until there were nearly 60 members.

A display of Haloween's handwork brought by the teachers from the various schools, was very clever especially when it was remembered that the work was done by children in primary grades. New games for use in the schools were demonstrated by the teachers, and some of them will be used in the school work. The next meeting will be held on the last Monday in November at Lincoln school when J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, will be one of the speakers.

Popular Bachelor Has Dismaying Interval To Joy of Guests

Friends of Alan A. Revill, well-known musician are still chuckling over an event that took place Monday night at 1008 West Camille street where Mr. Revill keeps an immaculate "bachelor's hall" with Sidney Langham. The event centered around the leaving of an infant on Mr. Revill's doorstep and resulted, he admits, in giving him one of the shocks of his life. The two bachelors declare they intend to adopt the baby and keep it as their own.

Mr. Langham was called away from home early in the evening by a telephone message and was among a group who, hidden by adjacent shrubbery, were delighted spectators, when, at a late hour, Mr. Revill answered the door bell to find a weeping woman enveloped in a long cloak on his porch. At her feet lay a large basket covered with a blanket which was being violently agitated, while from beneath it came plaintive wails. Stopping only long enough to beseech Mr. Revill to "be good to her baby" the sobbing woman turned and fled.

The luckless musician was too stunned for an instant to speak but as the woman ran he rushed after her shouting, "What do you mean? What do you mean?" At the curb she sprang into a waiting auto which sped away in the darkness.

Hesitatingly the dismayed victim approached the basket, from which wails were still coming. Fearfully he lifted a corner of the blanket. As he did so a group of hilarious friends dashed from their hiding places around the house and showered him with congratulations on his acquisition of a baby.

The infant turned out to be a large "crying" doll which had been fastened in a sitting position in the basket. A string around its neck drew it forward when pulled by Russ A. Shafer who was concealed at the end of the porch. As it bent the doll emitted a doleful wail. As the string was loosened rubber bands jerked the doll back to a sitting position. The contrivance was the invention of Mr. Shafer. The mother who deserted her babe turned out to be Mrs. Robert Speed. Those who gathered around Mr. Revill declared his brow wet with perspiration. He frankly admitted himself entirely taken in.

The party then entered the house and passed a jolly evening in conversation and jokes aimed largely at Mr. Revill. During the evening, the host was required to open several packages which his friends had brought and which contained utensils to be used in the bachelor home together with a number of jars of canned fruit. The evening ended with refreshments which the visitors had brought.

Those present were Mrs. W. N. Cummings, Miss Margaret Cummings, Orange; Mrs. Hollis, Gertrude and W. B. Hollis, Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, Newport; Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Shafer, Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weibrecht, Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Speed, Santa Ana.

More than five hundred million dollars' worth of candies of all sorts are annually consumed in the United States.

Birthday Surprise Well-planned by Close Friend

Planned and carried to a successful finish by Mrs. B. J. Harris and Mrs. I. N. Kohler, was a friendly birthday surprise on Mrs. A. E. Kohler of 1801 Willett street who was taken completely unaware by the sudden arrival of a group of friends and relatives Sunday afternoon.

Afternoon and evening hours were spent in conversation, music and several lively games. The guests thoughtfully brought refreshments whose serving added to the enjoyment. Mrs. Kohler was showered with happy birthday wishes and was also well-remembered with lovely gifts by her friends.

Enjoying the affair in addition to the surprised hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Kohler, were their two sons, Harold and Floyd and Mrs. Kohler's mother, Mrs. Mary Milligan, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Kohler, Mrs. Elizabeth Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kohler, of Orange; Mrs. Hugh Tyler, Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smiley, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Warne, Covina; Edna Raymond

Little Maid Enjoys Greeting Friends On Birthday

A birthday party is always thrilling and Dorothy Noreta, Waters' party was no exception to this rule last Saturday when Mrs. Waters entertained several of her small daughter's playmates in honor of her sixth birthday. There were many large bouquets of chrysanthemums to help make the home more beautiful besides the Haloween decorations of black and orange.

The afternoon was spent in playing games one of which was a most interesting peanut hunt. Little Miss Peggy Paxton won the prize for finding the most peanuts. There were delicious refreshments served at the table which was decorated in Haloween fashion with a huge birthday cake adorned with six candles gracing the center of the table.

Those who were present were Peggy Paxton, Joe McKee, Nathan Levins, Jackie Ralph, Roy Green, Margene Kibben and Dorothy Noreta Waters.

and Lee Kohler, Donald Warne, Martha Jean Smiley, Ethel and Gilbert Tyler, Leonard and Sam Lockhart.

SAYS FOREIGN TRAVEL SHOWS BIG INCREASE

Approximately 400,000 American travelers, carrying American Railway Express company travelers' cheques, spent close to $200,000,000 in foreign countries last year, according to Charles E. Davis, special representative of the American Railway Express company, who was in Santa Ana yesterday, on a tour of inspection.

According to Davis, who is attached to the general offices of the company in San Francisco, foreign travel, and particularly that to Europe, is on a constant increase from year to year. This increase, he explained, has forced the American Railway Express company to not only enlarge its foreign department in this country, but to increase the personnel in practically every office in Europe and the far east.

"It is safe to say that Americans last year spent more than $500,000,000 in foreign countries, part of which was handled by letters of credit, cable transfers, A.B.A. travel cheques and other means of transportation."

He stated further that the business handled in the company's offices in London, Paris, Rome and Berlin exceeded that of many good-sized offices in the United States. Equally promising is the volume of business handled in the far eastern offices, particularly Manila, he declared.

Court Notes

Sell Bonds Nov. 17

The $325,000 bond issue of Brea-Olinda high school district will be sold to the highest bidder November 17 at 11 a. m., it was decided late yesterday when the county supervisors called for sealed bids to be opened on that date.

The supervisors also decided to sell, on the same date, half of the $300,000 bond issue voted by Huntington Beach high school district recently.

Survey Ordered

County Surveyor Warren K. Hilliard was instructed by the board of supervisors late yesterday to proceed with a survey of county property bordering on Newport bay, for the purpose of establishing boundary lines.

Witness Missing

Failure of the complaining witness to appear in court today, caused postponement of preliminary hearing in the case of H. E. McLeod, charged with failing to render aid after an automobile accident. Justice K. E. Morrison continued the hearing to November 4 at 9 a. m.

McLeod figured in an automobile collision in the Santa Ana canyon October 18. It is charged that he went on without investigating. Mrs. V. H. Burnham and Mrs. J. W. Wimberly, both of Redondo Beach, were injured in the collision.

Hearing Continued

Preliminary hearing of Sam Cutrone, charged with perjury in connection with his recent marriage to Virginia Lanfranco, 14, was today continued by Justice K. E. Morrison to November 3.

Pays $50 Fine

E. Brinkmeyer, of Los Angeles, was fined $50 by Justice K. E. Morrison when he pleaded guilty late yesterday to a charge of shipping infested nursery stock.

A consignment of nursery stock which Brinkmeyer had shipped from Huntington Beach without a permit from the county horticultural commissioner was captured by Inspector Lang. It was said to be infested with Florida red scale.

Continues Examination

Justice K. E. Morrison today continued the preliminary examination of B. R. Parrott, accused of embezzlement, to November 17 at 10 a. m. Parrott is charged with misappropriating funds of the Pacific corporation while serving as manager of the concern.

MAN PUT ON CHAIN GANG; MONEY GOES TO CHILDREN

Carl Martin's difficulties in finding steady employment, so that he could support his two children, were solved today by Superior Judge E. J. Marks.

Judge Marks gave Martin a year's job on the county payroll, as a member of the chain gang, building roads. The county will provide board and lodging for Martin and will pay $1.50 a day toward the support of his children.

Martin wept in court today when Judge Marks revoked his probation, which had been granted in connection with a charge of failure to provide, and gave him the year's sentence.

"Just give me a chance," sobbed Martin.

"You've had one chance," the judge pointed out, "and you failed. In nine months, you sent only $60 toward the support of the children."

"I didn't have steady work. I had a job with the creamery company and got laid off, because I was so nervous. I broke as many as 50 bottles in a day," said Martin.

"Your reports to the probation officer show that you had pretty steady work. Now this job we are going to give you will provide you with steady, outdoor employment, where your nervousness will be cured; and you'll not have to worry about how you are going to support your children. The county will pay them $1.50 a day for your work."

Martin was granted probation last January. Following his failure to send $40 a month to the authorities, as ordered, a warrant for his arrest for violation of probation was issued August 20. Although Martin had sent monthly reports to the probation officer, his address was never given in the reports, and the officers searched for him until yesterday, when he was located and arrested in Los Angeles.

The children are in Santa Ana, their mother being employed in a local cafeteria.

Thieves Drain Gas Tank Every Night

L. R. Doyle, who resides near Talbert, is getting tired of trying to start his machine in the mornings only to find that the gasoline tank is empty.

He reported to the sheriff's office last night that thieves are making regular trips to his garage at night and draining his tank.

He wants it stopped, he said.

WORK FIERCELY TO FIND MAN IN BURNING TRUCK

The thought that a man's charred body might lie underneath a burning hay truck, ditched early last night, near Sulphur Slide, in the Santa Ana canyon, kept sheriff's officers and Coroner Charles D. Brown working for hours with picks and shovels, without success.

Every hour they expected to uncover the burned form of a man, the victim of an accident, who was thought to have been pinned under the truck when it left the road and plunged into a ditch, a mass of flames.

Early today, P. P. Fletcher, 2003 Lemon avenue, Long Beach, appeared at the sheriff's office and reported that he was the driver of the truck; that the hay, piled high on his truck, suddenly caught fire, supposedly from the backfire of the engine, and that he jumped from the vehicle and allowed the truck to run into the ditch when the flames ate their way to the driver's compartment.

"I was driving the truck down the canyon with a load of hay when it caught fire and got so hot I couldn't stop, so I jumped off and let it go," Fletcher said.

Passing motorists reported to the sheriff's office that the driver of the machine might have been caught in his compartment and burned with the hay.

Coroner Charles Brown said today that it was several hours before officers, working with shovels and picks, satisfied themselves that the driver was not underneath the wreckage. The fire burned until midnight.

4 Cans Kerosene Taken by Thieves

Thieves, who apparently were searching for gasoline, stole four 5-gallon cans of kerosene from the Ventura Supply company, 939 East First street, some time last night, according to a report on file with the police today. Four feet of rubber hose was cut and used in attempt to drain several tank wagons, but all were empty. The thieves then turned to several cans and carried away four of them, all containing kerosene, the report said.

FIRE IN FURNITURE PLANT.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—The Phoenix Furniture company's plant here was swept by fire today, the loss approximately $50,000. It was the second blaze at the Phoenix plant within six months. A previous fire destroyed furniture valued at $50,000.

Camp Fire Girls

The Kodakohi Camp Fire Girls recently journeyed to Modjeska's Home where they hiked up the fire trail to Modjeska's peak.

The girls motored from Santa Ana to Orange County park where they found that the most important part of the lunch had been left at home. So, owing to the fact that the car they drove was new and could only run at 20 miles an hour, part of the group returned to Orange where they bought the necessary articles to satisfy their hunger.

On returning to the park, the lunch was cooked in true camp fire fashion over an out-door fire. In the afternoon the girls rode to the Forest of Arden where they hiked up the trail to Modjeska's peak.

Those who participated in the outing were Miss Birdina Anderson, the guardian, Rowena Newcomb, Irene O'Brien, Helen O'Brien, Justina Palmer, Pearl McMillen and Eleanor Turner.

Robert Bradford, popular young soloist of this city, appeared in Fullerton last week at the celebration of the twenty-fifth birthday anniversary of the Masonic lodge there. The young singer made a decided hit in his two groups, and was given an ovation, responding to many encores. He is a pupil with Madame Manuela V. Budrow.

Mrs. Ella Campau of 801 French street is spending a few days with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank True at Hemet.

Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Wehrly of Los Angeles were week-end guests at the home of the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Wehrly, 819 Spurgeon street. The young people came down to welcome home Mrs. John Wehrly, who has just returned from a month's visit to her sister, Mrs. J. Struber in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Alex P. Nelson, president of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. J. P. Bohlander, chairman of press for the southern district federation, and Mrs. H. M. Sammis, district and county chairman of music, all of Santa Ana were in Redlands on Monday in attendance at the San Bernardino county federation meeting, and heard a fine address on "The American Home," by the General Federation president, Mrs. John W. Sherman, who has been in San Bernardino to attend the wedding of her son.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Zaiser have sold their home at 918 French street to Dr. and Mrs. Puntney. Dr. Puntney is a retired physician, who recently located in Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McGown have arrived in Santa Ana from New York city and are located at 719 East Chestnut street. Mr. McGown has taken the position of sales manager for Van Dien-Young company, being an old friend of H. B. Van Dien. He has been connected with the B. T. Babbitt Soap company, but feeling the lure of California decided to cast his fortune in with the Santa Ana company.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Layton and family of Southgate were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gipson, 1212 West Third street, the latter being Mr. Layton's mother. The family celebrated Mr. Layton's birthday with a dinner at Balboa Sunday. Mrs. Gipson has practically regained her health after an illness of two months and a half.

Clyde Gilbert of 302 North Baker street has sufficiently recovered from a recent illness to be able to resume his work in Orange.

Mrs. M. J. Ward of 1213 West Third street is on the road to recovery after her illness.

Friends of Mrs. P. H. Covington of 210 South Birch street will be grieved to know that she is seriously ill at her home, having been stricken with paralysis two weeks ago.

Mrs. Roscoe G. Hewitt, Mrs. Lena Hewitt and Mrs. J. A. Meise of this city formed a recent party at the Mary Louise in Fullerton and attended the theater there afterwards.

Bob Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert of 529 South Parton street, who is a student at the Chouinard school of art in Los Angeles, spent the week-end at his home here.

Recent guests at the A. N. Zerman home, 505 South Sycamore street were Mrs. Zerman's son, Nathan E. Guyer, Mrs. Guyer and their three young sons, Nathan Jr., Donald and Jimmie, of Hayden, Ariz., where Mr. Guyer is connected with a copper mining company. The family was here for a month, also visiting Mr. Guyer's sister, Mrs. A. R. Winter and family. Victor E. Zerman, of Los Angeles, brother of A. N. Zerman, was a visitor at his home for four days last week.

Judge E. T. Langley, who has been very ill at his home, 929 Spurgeon street, is now able to be up and walk about the house, which will be cheering news to his many friends.

Police News

Police have secured the names of five girls and four boys, all under age, who are under suspicion of damaging a vacant house, at Broadway and Fairview avenue, yesterday. The house is owned by George Kyrl. Plastering was damaged and the house put in disorder generally, according to a police report.

Charged with being drunk and disorderly, Eddie L. Bruner and Roy H. Lanikon, Los Angeles stage employees, who were arrested here Saturday night, each were fined $15 in police court yesterday. They had been in the city only a few days.

CUTTLE HOPES FOR SOLUTION TO PROBLEM OF CONSERVATION

President of District Believes Program Will Include Storage at Prado

WATER SITUATION PUZZLING TO MANY

Is Confident That Method Can Be Devised to Meet Approval of 3 Counties

In connection with the proposed dam across the Santa Ana river at Prado, for the conservation and control of the flood waters of the river, the question has arisen—

How would such a conservation and control work co-ordinate and fit into the general plans for conservation and control along the whole line of the river, as contemplated in plans of the Tri-County Conservancy district, headed by Francis Cuttle, of Riverside.

As one man put it, "If the flood waters of the Santa Ana river are conserved and controlled in the mountains and in the upper reaches of the river, how will any flood water ever get down to Prado to be there conserved and controlled?"

A complete answer to these questions seems to be found in the agreement reached by Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties years ago, with respect to the flood condition under which the spreading of water for under-ground storage at the head of the Santa Ana canyon could begin. This agreement provided that no water should be spread at the mouth of the canyon for sinking into the gravel beds until water was flowing past the Olive bridge, between Olive and Anaheim. Later, the by-laws of the Water Conservation association of the three counties were changed so that no water could be spread at the mouth of the canyon until water was flowing past the Chapman street bridge west of Orange.

Cuttle is questioned. To make sure that this answer to the questions that came up in the correct answer, the Register wrote to Francis Cuttle, president of the Tri-County Conservancy district, asking him how the tentative plans of the Orange county board of supervisors for a check dam and reservoir at Prado will co-ordinate with the general plans of the conservancy district, as outlined in newspaper reports from time to time. Mr. Cuttle replied as follows:

Riverside, California, Oct. 24, 1925. Mr. J. P. Baumgartner, Editor Santa Ana Register, Santa Ana, Calif.

Dear Mr. Baumgartner: I have yours of October 22 and regret that I was not in my office when you called, as I should like to have an opportunity to talk over water matters with you.

I have read the article which appears in your issue of October 22.

FAIR MOTOR COPS HAND OUT TICKETS IN ORANGE COUNTY

Selling tickets to the motor cops' Halloween dance, to be given Saturday night at Olive, is easy when two pretty girls astride a motorcycle set out to do it.

The motor police of the county need new uniforms and the dance Saturday night is expected to net enough profit to purchase the uniforms, and if the Misses Blanche and Glenna Jean Hill have anything to do with the ticket selling, there should be enough money left over to buy overcoats for the squad.

Miss Blanche Hill is holding the handle bars, and her younger sister is steering from the rear of the motorcycle in the above picture.

EXCHANGE CLUB MEMBERS HAVE JOLLY SESSION

Exchangeites today were unanimous in their declaration that Gene Douglas, a member of the club, is a high class impersonator of women following his interpretation of a feminine role in razzing a bunch of his fellow members in a clever stunt introduced at the meeting of the Exchange club at Ketter's cafe, yesterday noon.

Dressed in more or less ancient feminine garb, the "tall and stately" youth made a striking appearance when he appeared at the lunch and proceeded to "tell tales out of school" on club members, implicating a number of them in alleged intrigues with her.

The session of the club yesterday was full of pep, and was given a Halloween air by the passing of paper hats and noise-producing instruments.

Floyd Cuddy was program chairman and he made quite a hit when he called upon various members for an explanation of the origin of Halloween. In most instances the replies were "off line," but were good.

The fun session was introduced with a stunt requiring each member, before taking his seat at the table, to pick out with his mouth one of a number of apples floating on the surface of a small tub of water. Each member was game and each was successful in getting hold of an apple with his mouth—despite the fact that numerous willing hands were ready to shove under water the head of the man making the attempt.

Stanley Clem and George Scovel were appointed a committee to make arrangements for a meeting of the club at an early date at the Santa Ana Country club. The meeting may be an evening session, with dancing as the principal entertainment.

Dallas Typographical Union No. 173 has just celebrated its 40th anniversary.

ANDY GUMP TO ACT AS JUDGE AT COPS' BALL

Impersonator, Once Nabbed By Police Here, to Attend Officers' Dance

The much debated question of the birthplace and origin of the Charleston was settled today, when Andy Gump, erstwhile presidential candidate, and one of the best known national characters of the present day, in an exclusive interview, claimed credit for its discovery.

Gump, accompanied by Mrs. Gump, familiarly known as "Min" to thousands, and their son and heir, will attend the Halloween masque dance and carnival, to be given at the Olive hall, next Saturday evening, under auspices of the Orange county state traffic squad.

"All other statements to the contrary notwithstanding," Gump announced emphatically, "the Charleston, as it is now done, was not originated in Charleston, S. C., Charleston, W. Va., nor Charleston, Mass. 'The Charleston, as it is now practiced, first saw the light of day in Charleston, Kas., the home of Andrew Gump, the people's choice,' Gump emphasized. 'It was at a dinner dance given in my honor that I first presented this terpsichorean effort, which has swept the country in public fancy.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Gump will act as judges in a Charleston contest, a feature of the motor cops' dance. Rumors to the effect that Gump would be a contestant were denied by Min.

Gump, by the way, is known in private life as Joe Murphy, Universal movie actor, and portrayed of comedy parts. Murphy's introduction to Orange county motor police was in the form of a traffic ticket, on which he paid a fine in justice court at San Juan Capistrano.

Mr. and Mrs. Gump will award a prize of considerable worth to the couple whose efforts at Charlestoning best come up to the exacting standards established by Mr. Gump in his original Charleston, according to Capt. H. S. Warner, of the Orange county traffic squad, in charge of arrangements for the dance.

BEACH DRIVER GETS 10-DAY JAIL TERM

Charged with driving an automobile without having an operator's license, Pavlo Madrigal, Huntington Beach, was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail, in Judge J. F. Talbot's court yesterday afternoon, following his arrest, at Fairview and Bristol streets, shortly after he had run down and injured Salome Trigo, 19, 710 Lacy street, who was riding a bicycle.

Trigo suffered severe cuts and bruises about the head and body. He was taken to his home, where a physician attended him.

According to a police report of the accident, Madrigal drove his machine into a vacant lot before he could stop it, after the accident.

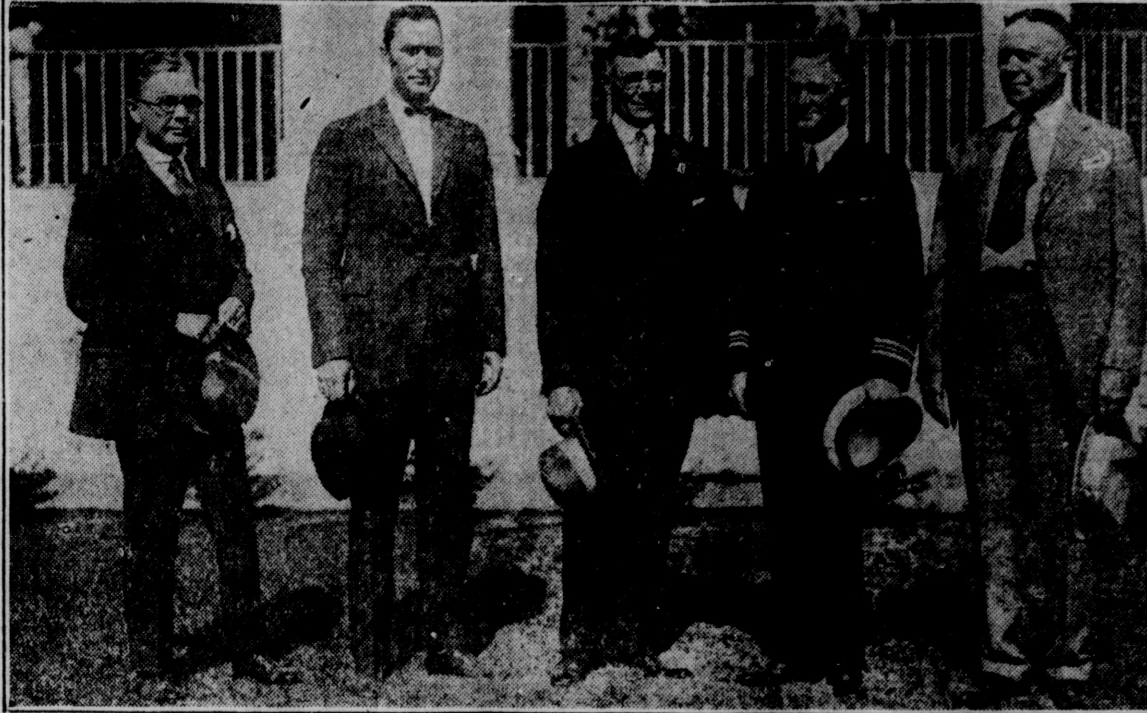

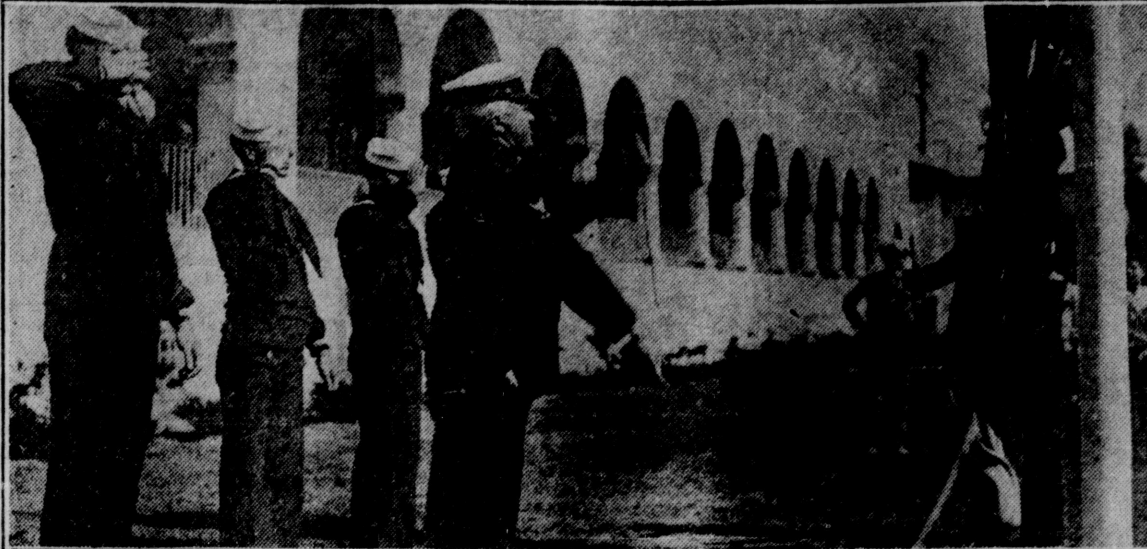

Madrigal works in a sugar factory in Huntington Beach, he told police, and was driving a car owned by his brother at the time.

CAUSES FOR PIG LOSS
Lack of exercise for brood sows and too much corn in their rations cause weak pigs and loss of many newly farrowed pigs, reports the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Well fed sows seldom exercise enough unless they're forced to do it.

COW-TESTING CHAMPS
The cow-testing association of Williams county, O., claims leadership in the United States by an average of 1000 pounds of milk more for each cow than elsewhere. Its average milk production is 9619 pounds to a cow.

RATION FOR SOW
A satisfactory ration for a sow with pigs: 15 pounds of tankage to 85 pounds of other feed, such as corn, kafir and milo.

LOVE, MYSTERY WILL FEATURE OPENING PLAY

Aside from the perplexing problem of how a man can be shot down while nobody is anywhere near him, "Whispering Wires" owes much of its success to the fact that it is one of the most charming love stories ever written.

The romance of the dashing young captain, Barry McGill, and the lovely young business, Doris Stockbridge, is really the revolving point of this amazing mystery story. Doris' father has a violent quarrel with the young army officer, and shortly afterward is killed, in a manner entirely unprecedented.

Detectives lurking outside the door have heard the hot words exchanged by the lover and the millionaire. Immediately he comes under suspicion of having been an accomplice to the baffling shooting. How Barry McGill protects his sweetheart from an even greater danger that lurks in wait for her, and how he solves the mystery of her father's death brings this absorbing mystery, this tingling romance, to a surprising and altogether satisfactory conclusion.

"Whispering Wires" will be seen at the Ebell club on November 18, 19, 20 and 21, with Grace M. Zaiser in the outstanding role of the secretary, Ann Cartwright. Mrs. Zaiser will be remembered for her work in one of the first Community Players' successes, "The Servant in the House," and also for her work in "Seven Keys to Baldpate." Harry Brackett, who has given many excellent characterizations to local playgoers, will be seen in the role of the millionaire, Montgomery Stockbridge. Marian Bruner and Raymond Simpson will portray the young lovers, Doris Stockbridge and Barry McGill. This is the first opportunity these young folk have had to interpret characters of this type and their friends await with interest the coming production.

Supply Company To Hold Reunion In Los Angeles

A reunion of the supply company, 34th, 91st division, is contemplated as part of the banquet meeting of the 91st division association, to be held November 4, at Sutton's cafe, 386 South Los Angeles street, Los Angeles, it was announced today by Bob Collins and George Platt, local representatives of the supply company.

"We hope to have a reunion of the supply company," Platt said, in stating that he and Collins would appreciate effort on the part of supply company members to advise of their correct addresses.

The meeting of the association will be a snappy one, Platt said, adding that there will be plenty of food and entertainment.

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

HEALTH CLINIC IN SCHOOL APPROVED

Establishment of voluntary health clinics in the city schools, tentative plans for the new gymnasium building to be erected at the high school, and plans for participating in the Orange county Armistice day parade, were among matters taken up at the board of education meeting held yesterday afternoon at the board rooms.

The matter of establishing voluntary health clinics in the city schools was laid before the board by Roland E. Dye and Gilbert P. Campbell, members of the boys' committee of the Santa Ana Rotary club. With the understanding that the work would be entirely voluntary, and that examination of children would only be made with the consent of the parents, the subject was approved by the school board.

The board voted $75 to defray the cost of preparing a suitable float for entry in the Orange county Armistice day parade, to be staged under the auspices of the American Legion.

BIBLE CLASS MEN TO ATTEND SESSION

Seventy-five members of the Men's Community Bible class of Santa Ana will attend the quarterly session of the Federated Men's Bible Classes of Southern California in Whittier, Thursday, it was announced today by W. B. Martin, president of the local organization.

A number of the Santa Ana members will leave for Whittier at 1 p. m. in order to attend the afternoon session. Others will leave at 5 p. m. arriving in time for the 6:30 o'clock banquet.

There are approximately 40 men's Bible classes in Southern California with an estimated membership of 8000 members. Mr. Martin declared.

ROTARY HEARS DISCUSSION ON TRADE ETHICS

"Standards of business have been raised in the last two decades by business, professional and agricultural associations. The changes made have been marked." This declaration opened yesterday's program at the Santa Ana Rotary club meeting at St. Ann's Inn. The first speaker was Herbert P. Rankin, of the Rankin's Dry Goods company, and chairman of the club's better business methods committee. The governing board of International Rotary has suggested a number of better business programs for the Rotary clubs of the world. Yesterday's program here was in keeping with International Rotary's suggestion.

Promote Business Ethics
As an organization of business men, deeply interested in instilling ethics into every craft and profession, Rotary, it was pointed out, believes in business and professional associations.

Rankin outlined in detail the code of ethics of the national dry goods men's association, of which he is a member. Under this code, straight, honest business methods, that keep in mind not only the interests of the proprietor, but also the interests of the wholesaler, the employee and the consumer, were advocated. That there is a spirit of helpfulness and co-operation instilled among competitors through associations, was declared by Rankin. Two other lines of investigation, showing how ethical standards, such as Rotary is interested in, are maintained through organization, were discussed by Attorney Frank C. Drumm, former judge of the superior court, and William C. Jerome, county auditor and one of the organizers of the California Lima Bean Growers' association.

Points To Bar Association
Drumm presented methods used by the bar association of the country to raise the standards of legal practice, frowning upon the acts of attorneys who fail to conscientiously and fairly represent their clients.

Jerome laid the success of the lima bean association largely to the confidence instilled through it to the trade of the country. The association, by years of living up to high standards of business ethics, has established a reputation that brings it a ready market for its products.

Among Rotarian visitors at yesterday's Rotary club was Layman Beamer of McAllen, Tex., who is visiting his parents here.

ADVOCATES OF AIR DEFENSE ARE RAPPED BY NAVAL CHIEF

Destroyer Commander Cites Limitations of Planes in Talk Before Large Crowd

COUNTY HARBOR IS GIVEN GREAT BOOST

Says Newport Logical Place To Handle Freight Which Crowds Los Angeles Port

Giving Orange County Harbor a big boost, and handing backers of an air defense a hard knock, Capt. T. N. Alford, commander of the U. S. S. destroyer Kennedy yesterday opened the Orange county navy day program in Fullerton with an address which was heard by more than 2000 persons. High school and grammar school children of the district were dismissed to hear the address.

"It appears to me that you have a wonderful opportunity here in that you have a large harbor which can be developed at a very small cost. As Los Angeles Harbor is of limited size, and as it almost has reached the limit of its development it would seem that it will be necessary to handle the slower and cheaper freight elsewhere in the near future, and your harbor is the logical place to handle it," Captain Alford declared. He also said that it was his opinion that although Los Angeles might oppose the establishment of a harbor here now, they would, in a few years, be more than willing to assist in developing one.

Captain Alford rapped the activities of the advocates of a national air defense. "Much is heard of what aircraft can do but very little of its limitations," he said. He admitted that aircraft was important but listed a number of limitations.

Operating Radius Defect
"Possibly the most serious defect in aircraft at the present time is its operating radius," he declared. "With existing or prospective aircraft, operations from shore bases are not possible at distances greater than 300 miles from the coasts. An enemy fleet could operate with perfect freedom outside this limit and from this position could paralyze our ocean borne commerce."

The army round-the-world flight is cited by a number of air defense advocates, according to Alford, who declared that the long-end hop made by the flyers was approximately 800 miles. Engines and parts of the planes were changed many times, he pointed out. He also declared that the flight around the world cost the army about $62,000 and cost the navy, in fuel alone, looking out for the planes, about $600,000.

A comparison of the efficiency of the airplane and the battleship in military weapons was given by Captain Alford.

"A battleship can fire 1000 projectiles of the same approximate weight and destructive effect as an airplane bomb in an engagement of less than two hours. To equal this destructive effect would require 1000 of the largest size bombers if we neglect casualties and grant that bombs dropping is as accurate as shooting," he said. A battleship, undefended and dead in the water, which it took an airplane several hours to sink, could be sent to the bottom in 15 minutes.

SEEK GIRL TO PLAY LEADING ROLE IN FILM

Perhaps there has never been the opportunity for an unknown girl in the history of the motion picture industry as that being offered by Sol Lesser, president of Principal Pictures corporation, and the West Coast Theaters, Inc.

For months the great question in Hollywood has been: "Who will play the role of Barbara in 'The Winning of Barbara Worth'?" What girl will gain international fame and popularity through her work in this great story of Harold Bell Wright's?

The announcement of Lesser that the title role may be played by an unknown girl—one whose name has never figured in the film world—comes as a great surprise. But Mr. Lesser points out that such things are not unusual and calls attention to Betty Bronson and others who became famous over night.

"Somewhere in California is the ideal girl to play the role of 'Barbara Worth,'" adds Mr. Lesser. "And Principal Pictures, through the splendid co-operation of West Coast theaters will do its utmost to locate this girl."

The search for Barbara will be conducted in some twelve cities in Southern California possessing a West Coast theater. The following is the plan just announced by Principal Pictures:

Every girl in Santa Ana between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two is eligible to enter the contest, and requested to submit her photo to the manager of any of these West Coast theaters. The girls will later be notified by the manager as to the night they are to be present in the audience. At this time, a committee of three citizens and Mrs. G. W. Gibson, famous camera man of the motion picture industry, will select from the entries, ten girls who will be called to the stage for the purpose of taking a screen test. Mr. Sol Lesser will personally inspect all film tests.

Stage and Screen

WEST COAST-WALKER.

Starting today at the West Coast-Walker theater is a five-act head-line vaudeville bill and a feature picture that's a knockout.

Heading the vaudeville bill is Roisman's Juvenile Band consisting of six clever musicians, which have just completed a tour of the entire United States. This clever family of juveniles have presented its novel musical offering in the bigger eastern houses and return to California knowing they have become a standard vaudeville offering of the highest caliber. Their musical numbers run from the operatic selections to the latest jazz melodies.

The Aerial Bartlett is without doubt one of the outstanding acts of its kind on the present-day stage. Their work is the last word in cleverness and daring and can be relied on to give any audience all the thrills they could hope for. They have played all the best theaters in America and Europe and are now enroute to Australia.

Miller and Peters are two clever artists presenting a hodge-podge of singing, dancing and nut comedy and should prove a solid laughing hit on the current bill.

The Jackson Trio offer an act that holds its own when it comes to pep and speed. They are almost perpetual motion every moment they are on the stage. Jazz and then more jazz is their slogan. They have a pleasing offering which will keep the audience in good humor and wishing their stay was longer.

Melson and Company close the vaudeville bill with a juggling act that has no equal. It is a sure fire hit and will please any audience.

Richard Talmadge will be seen on the screen in his latest feature, "The Wall Street Whiz." Masquerading as a butler in a millionaire's mansion and saving his wealthy friend from the clutches from financial ruin in Wall Street gives this young star plenty of opportunities for action and thrills.

It is just chuck full of laughs and this coupled with wonderful drama make this picture real entertainment.

Completing the current bill is a Clyde Cook comedy, "Midnight and Noses," and selections by Al Steiner and his concert orchestra.

TEMPLE THEATER.

Tonight is another big night at the Temple theater where the Connell Comedians are presenting "Her Temporary Husband," featuring Miss Fay Life and Leon Rogot.

The American Legion of Santa Ana will attend for the first time. Many poets are featuring theater parties and in a short time many novelty features are added to the regular show from the rank and file of the post.

The Connell Players are now rehearsing the year's greatest melodramatic success, "The Monster," which will be presented next week.

Lon Chaney added greatly to his present popularity in this show of shows while the motion picture re-ceived special runs all over the country. It is admitted that "The Monster" as presented from the stage is enjoyed a great deal more as the gruesome features are more or less left out and more comedy is offered.

The Connell Comedians are well able to present this show with complete effects of which they are many in the full acts. Connell seldom takes a part but in this bill he will be featured as the servant and Harry Schumm, the director, will play the doctor, better known as "The Monster."

WEST END THEATER

Huge settings and spectacular photography of kaleidoscopic crowds; gorgeous fetes and the great Paris Opera in its glittering glory. Dim, tortuous cellars in which weird, ghostly faces stare from the shadows, and in which strange, eerie things take place—and Lon Chaney, prince of thrillers—these are the things that stand out in one's memory after watching "The Phantom of the Opera," Carl Laemmle's new super-spectacle, now playing at the West End Theater here.

The story is thrill after thrill—the very concentrated essence of excitement and mystery, but staged on so gorgeous and so lavish a scale—and also in such a mysterious manner—that it is hard to describe. One sits enthralled by the beauty of it, gripped by the thrills of it, and astounded by the mystery of it all at once.

"The Phantom of the Opera" is the story of a grim, ghost-like being hiding in the huge cellars, five stories below ground, amid the foundations of the great Paris Opera house. He launches a reign of terror for the girl he loves (played by the delightful Mary Philbin) and who is finally rescued by her lover (Norman Kerry), aided by a mysterious Persian (Arthur Edmund Carewe).

YOST THEATER

After a deluge of sex and problem plays, "Private Affairs" which is showing this week at the Yost theater is as refreshing as walking from a room with incense into a bracing April day. Truly here is a picture that we can unqualifiedly recommend for the whole family—and add that it will not grow restive.

The plot revolves about the daughter of the village postmaster, played by Gladys Hulette who endows her role with charming piety. There is the poor but adoring youth and the strutting village dandy who turns out to be a lyn' dandy in the final reel. The girl's father dies when he learns that his life's savings have been sucked away by a fraudulent company, and five years later finds the girl still passing out mail and bright smiles from the post office window.

During this time the village dandy has left town to make his fortune in the oil fields, leaving two palpitating hearts behind. One is the postmaster's daughter and the other is the "purest gal" in town, portrayed by Mildred Harris who interprets a difficult role with admirable ability.

Husband Says Wife Eats Too Much

At first she ate hardly anything because she had stomach trouble. After her husband, F. M. Noble, bought the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc. (known as Adlerika) her appetite became so good that Mr. Noble, in a joking way, says it keeps him humping to buy food.

Even if your bowels move every day, Adlerika brings out much additional matter which might cause trouble. Don't waste time with pills or tablets but let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels QUICK relief.

What Doctors Say
Dr. G. Eggers reports Adlerika is the best medicine he has used in 37 years.

Dr. W. H. Bernhart writes he could not get along in his practice without Adlerika.

Dr. J. J. Weaver, a doctor for 50 years, says he knows no medicine better than Adlerika.

Dr. L. Langlois prescribes Adlerika regularly with GOOD effect.

Dr. E. Puckett writes: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. AWFUL impurities were eliminated from my system."

Adlerika is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines because of its REAL and quick action. Sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

SEVERE HEADACHES

Indiana Woman Suffered With Many Distressing Symptoms, Until She Took Cardui.

Elizabeth, Ind.—"I began suffering with severe headaches," says Mrs. A. Prell, of this place, in telling of the painful symptoms she recently experienced. "I would feel chilly, and then that pain in my head was most severe and would run down into my back and shoulders. I would get very nervous, after which I would get drowsy and lifeless, just drag around. These headaches were more severe at ... time, and my back and sides would ache.

"I read ... of other cases that had been helped by the use of Cardui and I began using it. Sure enough it helped me.

"I had taken only two bottles when I found the headache was less severe, and after I took five bottles they didn't trouble me so much except at ... time. I kept on and after (taking) ten bottles I was much stronger and better in every way.

The safest way to get rid of a headache is to treat the cause and not the symptom, and in the case of headaches caused by female disorders, which frequently come to women at certain times, Cardui is the logical remedy to use. Taken in time, before the headache is due, it has been found, by thousands, to prevent this distressing symptom. Try it!

DISTORTED MENTAL FIGMENTS ARE ALLEGED IN COURT SUIT TO REVOKE PROBATE OF WILL

Distorted mental figments caused the late William McDole of Santa Ana, to cut his relatives out of his will and leave his extensive estate to a home for the aged, the relatives declared today in filing a petition in superior court to revoke probate of the will.

Alternately mistrusting his kin and taking them back into his good graces, as his eccentric fancy dictated, McDole made and destroyed fully a dozen or more wills, his heirs declare. Laboring under a delusion that anyone showing him kindness was after his money, and that anyone approaching him was possibly seeking to do him bodily injury, McDole finally ended his own life, a week after attaching a codicil to his last will. At the moment his relatives happened to be out of his graces, and the Stubbfield Home for the Aged was made sole heir, except for a few small bequests to the legal heirs, it was indicated.

Died Last March

McDole, who lived at 1042 West Myrtle street, died last March 26, and his will, which was dated Nov. 21, 1922, with a codicil of March 18, 1925, was probated in superior court May 22 by W. R. Barnes, executor. The will was witnessed by Leslie Barnes and Janet Simpson.

Plaintiffs in the petition to revoke probate of the will are Rufus, Henry, James and Oliver McDole, brothers of the deceased; Mary E. Huffman, their sister, and three nieces, Thelma McDole Karmen, Pearl McDole Taylor and Mary McDole Badgley. William McDole left no family and the plaintiffs claim to be his only living relatives. Henry McDole and Mrs. Huffman are residents of Santa Ana.

The will is attacked, not only on the ground that McDole was of unsound mind at the time it was made, but on the alleged belief of the plaintiffs that it was not regularly executed according to law.

McDole's relatives picture him as an excitable old man, brandishing a cane at all who came near him, his mania frequently causing what, under other circumstances, would be humorous situations.

Fearing Harm Intended

When riding in any public conveyance, McDole would not allow anyone to occupy a seat beside him, fearing that harm was intended, it is said.

Toward the last, his relatives say, he became partially blind and often, when on the street, would cross between intersections regardless of traffic. Walking into a line of vehicles, he would hold up traffic and shake his cane angrily at motorists who drove their cars near him.

It was no unusual sight, according to relatives, to see the old man, sans attire, steal from the back entrance of his house into the yard, and craftily conceal his clothing. His shoes would be hid under a bush, his trousers carefully placed in hiding behind a box in another part of the yard, and other garments concealed with utmost caution, they say.

McDole imagined that black men, armed with knives, were in his room at night, trying to kill him, it was said.

Miserly Love For Money

He betrayed a miserly love for money and was in the habit of counting, over and over, the small sum kept on hand for current household bills, the petition stated. Mixed with his financial caution was a queer streak, it was said, which caused him to make initial payments upon costly goods and then never complete the payments.

These happenings and characteristics were set forth by the relatives to support their contention that McDole was not in sound mind when he left his estate to the home for aged. He knew nothing of the institution and the institution knew nothing of him, they claim. His attorney protested against his will, but was threatened with bodily injury by McDole if he failed to comply with McDole's wishes, it was stated. He finally prevailed upon McDole to make at least the small bequests to the relatives.

Rail Men Silent On Electrification

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Officials of the Santa Fe railroad today refused to affirm or deny that plans were being considered to electrify that railroad, contingent upon the erection of a dam in the Colorado river at Bridge canyon. Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, had intimated that such plans were pending, during examination of a bill before the senate committee on irrigation and reclamation.

Solution of Water Conservation Is Hope of Cuttle

appeared in your paper of October 19, with reference to the Prado dam. I also note your statement, "I am wondering how the general conservancy project will harmonize, synchronize and articulate with the tentative plans Orange county has for combination check dam and reservoir at Prado."

You know that the state, in co-operation with the three counties, is now making a comprehensive plan for conservation of water of the Santa Ana river, covering the whole watershed, which undoubtedly would include the possibility of storage at Prado. I could not, at this time, give an opinion on either the Prado project or the proposed plan of the conservancy district, but I will say that I believe that when that plan is completed some method can be devised that will meet with the approval of the people of the three counties, who are dependent upon the water of the Santa Ana river for irrigation and domestic purposes, and that without conflict.

By-laws Are Changed

You will recall that when the Water Conservation association was incorporated its by-laws provided that no water should be diverted by the association from the gravel beds above Highlands until and unless water should be flowing to the Olive bridge, between Olive and Anaheim, in Orange county, and that was satisfactory to the Orange county people; but later—quite recently, in fact—the Orange county people thought that it would serve their purpose better and give them more water if that was changed so that no water could be diverted until water should reach the Chapman street bridge, west of Orange, which is some three miles lower down the river than the Olive bridge, and the directors in Riverside and San Bernardino counties immediately conceded the point and changed the by-laws.

I cite this instance only to show that there is a disposition on the part of all the people supporting the conservancy association to be fair in their treatment of all sections along the Santa Ana river, and I think at this time it is too early to say just how the Prado project and the enlarged project of the conservancy association can be joined or worked out harmoniously, but I feel quite sure that it can be done in such a way as to be a benefit to all and without conflict.

With kind regards, I am,
Very truly yours,
FRANCIS CUTTLE,
President Water Conservation association.

DAIRY COUNCIL SESSION CLOSES

Selection of Oakland as the place to hold the next meeting and the adoption of a resolution thanking the Orange county farm bureau, agricultural extension service and the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce for the splendid program and entertainment offered, brought the quarterly session of the California Dairy council to a close yesterday.

The last day of the convention was given over largely to a field tour, concluding with a visit to the E. G. Stinson and son dairy, northwest of Orange. After a short business meeting in the morning, the council automobile caravan formed and proceeded to the packing house of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association. Following the inspection of the packing house, Lemon Heights was climbed, a number of delegates exclaiming upon the beauty of the panorama exposing to view thousands of citrus acres and rich agricultural land.

A T-bone steak dinner was served at the Hewes ranch through the courtesy of D. Eymann Huff, Raitt's Sanitary dairy and the Excelstor Creamery company. The Huff herd of fine Jersey cows was inspected. The next meeting will be held in Oakland at the time of the state dairy show, November 14 to 21.

The NYAL "Two for One" Sale is just what its name implies. You get TWO products for the price of one.

For example: The regular retail price of Ny-Denta Tooth Paste is fifty cents per tube. During this Sale you get TWO tubes for fifty cents. Every piece of merchandise is fresh from the factory and we guarantee it the same as we always do when sold at regular prices. Look over the list below. In it you will find standard household products, cosmetics, stationery and rubber goods, all offered to you on the basis of TWO for the price of one. This offer is good only on the Nyal products listed below.

Do not delay your visit to our store a moment, as regular prices will obtain after this sale is over.

HOW TO ANSWER BLIND ADVERTISEMENTS
In answering blind ads (for instance, L. Box 36, Register, or other similar address), please be careful to use the proper address given in the ad. Do not address the letter to the Register office. Always enclose your answer in sealed envelope, and write "T. F. (Till Forbid) Ads" on the envelope. An advertiser who has made application for credit and opened an account with The Register Credit Department in the regular form desires to have any "line" advertisement published continuously until further notice. He may do so by signing a "Till Forbid" order to that effect. An advertisement thus begun will appear regularly until countermanded by written order.
BOX OFFICE REPLIES
The Register postoffice department is conducted for the benefit of patrons who wish answers to come to the office. Advertisers are furnished with identification cards which must be presented at The Register office. For the protection of our patrons, replies are not given out except on presentation of box card.
No record is kept of the names and addresses of patrons using The Register postoffice, and therefore no information concerning these advertisers can be supplied. A change in name for words "Box A-234, care The Register."

TO-MORROW IN THE CITY

POLY MIDGETS DEFEAT COVINA CLASS C SQUAD

By defeating the Covina high school 110-pounders on the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school field, Santa Ana's Class C football eleven yesterday added 30 points to their increasing season's total that already has mounted to 173 points as against 6 scored by their opponents.

The game was a practice tilt before the lightweights go into action against South Pasadena in the curtain-raiser league game here next Saturday afternoon.

Despite the victory of 20 to 0 chalked up by the team, Coach Walter Harris was not at all pleased with the showing made by his proteges. He told the players that he was "disappointed" with them. The setback, he believes, will prime their overconfidence and prepare them to "take" South Pasadena.

All semblance of teamwork was lacking in the game against the Covina eleven. Their three touchdowns were recorded due to individual stunts. In the second quarter, Bohumil Koral, fullback, made the first score by recovering a blocked punt.

Again in the same period, Ernest Velarde, shifty quarterback, slipped through the Covina line in an off-tackle play and crossed the goal. The final marker was made by Halback Melvin Beatty when he eluded the Covina tacklers and crashed over on a 20-yard-run.

NOTRE DAME LACKS EXPERIENCE TO BE GREAT TEAM, CLAIM

ERNIE JOHNSON, YANK STAR, IS SENT TO ST. PAUL; BIG DEAL 'BREAKS' IN SANTA ANA

A story of national baseball interest and importance "broke" in Santa Ana today when it was learned from authoritative sources that Ernie Johnson, star utility infielder of the New York Yankees who is wintering at Laguna Beach, has been sold by the American league club to St. Paul of the American association.

The transaction, as yet officially unannounced, was said to have cost the Orange county man a chance to land a managerial position with a Pacific Coast league club next season. One Western team was anxious to land Johnson, it was known, and had made overtures to the Yanks for his services.

Johnson will go to St. Paul in part payment for Mark Koenig, the sensational shortstop, who joined the Yankees late last summer.

News of the deal was learned here today from Judge Kene-saw Mountain in Landis, commissioner of baseball, The Shell Oil Club of Long Beach had sought the services for a game text Sunday of Johnson, Jimmy Austin, coach of the St. Louis Browns, and Hillard "Tuffy" Tyrrell, well known Santa Ana boy who recently returned from a season with Tulsa in the Western league.

Johnson agreed to play provided he could obtain the consent of Landis. He wired for it and Landis' reply was to the effect, "since you have been turned over to the St. Paul club you are eligible to participate in the game." This was the first knowledge Johnson had that he was to go to St. Paul.

Persistent reports that the Yankees have purchased "Doc" Crandall, veteran Los Angeles pitcher, who also will be sent to St. Paul in the Koenig deal could not be verified here.

WILL NOT PROBE BOUT NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 28.—New Jersey officials will take no action concerning the fist fight between Harry Wills stopped by Floyd Johnson Monday night. "Sure, it was a rotten show, but on the level," Platt Adams, boxing colon said.

For Stealing Booz For Taking Booz

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Pleading guilty to having taken 23 bottles of champagne from a taxi in front of Tex Guinan's Del Fay club, Abe Attell, former feather-weight champion, was fined $200 for violation of the Volstead act by United States Judge Winslow.

Bud Taylor Wins Bout from Snell

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Bud Taylor, Terro Haute terror, won the decision over Doc Snell, Seattle, in a sensational 10-round bout at the Vernon coliseum last night.

Taylor's greater experience, coupled with a sharp-shooting left hand turned the tide in his favor. Snell gamely tried to put over a knockout wallop and was never very far behind.

Johnny Couch To Be Duck Next Year

KREUSE HURT; GRID RIVALRY MATCH IS OFF

Scribes Have 'Hunch' That He'll Play Part of Game Against 'Red' Grange

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A grid-iron battle between two of the most famous backfield stars football has produced seems to have been cancelled with news from Philadelphia that Al Kreuse, the Pennsylvania ace, will be out of the lineup when Red Grange and his Illinois teammates invade the Quaker City Saturday.

According to the decidedly bearish information handed out by the Penn coaching staff, Kreuse has an injured left knee which will not permit him to play for more than a week.

Football mentors dearly love to betray their public by sounding the lugubrious note in advance of the big games. Week after week passes in which a casualty list is announced and the members of that list get into action just as though they never had been injured.

The psychology of this stunt is of doubtful value. Surely, if a prize fight manager announced that his charge was suffering from every ailment known to man, including housemaid's knee and croup, the size of the gate would be measurably reduced. In fact, fight managers usually tell the other way. They announce that their fighters always are "in the pink" and strive to create optimism.

But football coaches seem to think that if they are not mournful they are not doing their duty. One glaring exception so far this year is Charles Crowley, who superintends the Columbia team. Prior to the game with Ohio State Crowley announced that every man in the lineup was in tip top shape. As a matter of fact, Captain George Pease was injured so badly he could not possibly have played.

But Crowley figured that what Ohio State didn't know wouldn't hurt them. He believed the Ohioans would wonder when Pease would get into the game, and in that event would feel that Crowley had an ace up his sleeve who might take the field in the fourth quarter and run riot. Columbia was defeated, but the score might have been larger if the Ohio athletes had known in the first place that Pease would not oppose them.

NEW YORK—National league players answering a questionnaire voted overwhelmingly in favor of Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals as the league's most dangerous pinch hitter.

DETROIT—Jake Schaefer, balk-line billiard champion, came from behind to win a 1500 point exhibition match with Willie Hoppe, former champion, here last night. Hoppe, who was leading by a score of 900 to 789 at the start of the last block, finished with a total score of 1136.

PRINCETON—Coach Bill Roper has turned the attention of his Tiger squad to straight running plays, aiming to have a versatile eleven pointed for the "big three" games. Early in the season, Princeton specialized in aerial attack.

NEW HAVEN—Ted Jones is working Yale easily this week, seeking to avoid any more casualties before the stiff game with the cadets.

BOARD ADOPTS GYM PLANS; TO ASK BIDS SOON

Tentative plans for the Santa Ana high school's new $100,000 gymnasium were approved by the city board of education when Frederick H. Eley, local architect, presented them at a meeting late yesterday.

Eley was instructed to prepare detailed plans and specifications at the earliest practicable date. When these are officially approved, the board will call for construction bids.

Discussing the economic advantages of letting the contract for the construction of the building, the board will call for construction bids.

The new structure will be erected on the present site of the automobile sheds, west of the print shop. It will border the Poly athletic field on its west side.

Roughly, the structure will measure 160 feet in length and 140 feet in width and will be one-story of plain but substantial construction. The main basketball floor will be of standard size, 50 by 90 feet. There will be an auxiliary floor for girls' teams. A gallery will accommodate 700 spectators. A cafeteria will adjoin the building and the plans have been drawn so that a first class swimming pool may be added.

As soon as the gymnasium is completed and opened, the rooms on the lower floor of the commercial building, now used for gymnasium and cafeteria purposes, will be available for classrooms. These are badly needed at the high school.

And yet Red Grange would have no legitimate ground for protest if the boys in blue blazers got up and yelled that he ran like an ice man.

SHORT SPORTS

NEW YORK—Lou Gehrig, slug-gut outfielder of the New York Yankees, has formed a basketball team, named after himself, and will compete with local professionals here this winter.

NEW YORK—National league players answering a questionnaire voted overwhelmingly in favor of Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals as the league's most dangerous pinch hitter.

DETROIT—Jake Schaefer, balk-line billiard champion, came from behind to win a 1500 point exhibition match with Willie Hoppe, former champion, here last night. Hoppe, who was leading by a score of 900 to 789 at the start of the last block, finished with a total score of 1136.

PRINCETON—Coach Bill Roper has turned the attention of his Tiger squad to straight running plays, aiming to have a versatile eleven pointed for the "big three" games. Early in the season, Princeton specialized in aerial attack.

NEW HAVEN—Ted Jones is working Yale easily this week, seeking to avoid any more casualties before the stiff game with the cadets.

TRUCK CROPS TO BE TALKED AT PARK MEET

Department of Agriculture And State University Aid In Providing Speakers

The complete program for the first annual truck crop growers' school has been announced by representatives of the extension service of Los Angeles and Orange counties.

This school, the first of its kind ever attempted in Southern California, is being put on by the agricultural extension service and the farm bureaus of Los Angeles and Orange counties, co-operating with the United States department of agriculture, the division of trucks, the University of California and the state department of agriculture.

The school will be held in the auditorium of the Buena Park grammar school, November 16, 17 and 18.

The following are on the program, R. Ellis, Orange county assistant farm advisor, Prof. H. A. Jones, division of truck crops, University of California; R. G. Risser, California Vegetable union; Dr. Ivan C. Jagger, United States department of agriculture; H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor; J. N. Teague, Arcadia; Stanley Rogers, state department of agriculture; Dr. J. T. Rosen, division of truck crops, University of California; Roy E. Campbell, United States department of agriculture; M. Shapovalov, United States department of agriculture; E. D. McSweeney, El Monte; F. H. Ernst, Los Angeles county assistant farm advisor; J. A. Knapp, Garden Grove.

Topics to be discussed include principles of lettuce seed selection and handling, culture of lettuce, economics with relation to truck crops, the principles of cabbage and cauliflower seed production, diseases of lettuce, culture of cabbage and cauliflower, standardization of vegetables, varieties of tomatoes and their improvement, cultural practices in tomato production, tomato diseases, storage and ripening of green tomatoes, handling potato seed for second crop, cultural methods with Irish potatoes, program for soil improvement for potatoes, selection of seed and disease control, storage of sweet potatoes, sweet potato disease of Orange county, cultural methods with peppers, status of pepper weevil control work, use of arsenical in insect control.

CORN BURIED IN UTAH CAVE CENTURIES AGO FLOURISHES

This seven-foot stalk of corn was grown from seed found in a cliff dwellers' cave near Vernal, Utah. The seed is thought to have been buried in the cave from 800 to 1200 years. Jeff Hall, right, Vernal farmer, found the seed and planted it.

DISPLAY FINE EXHIBITS FROM DRAINED LAND

Illustrating the results of drainage and alkali reclamation in the Newhope drainage district, southwest of Santa Ana, B. F. Crutchfield, one of the district directors, brought to the farm advisor's office some very interesting specimens of crops grown on land which had not produced a crop in ten years. The exhibits included a stalk of corn nearly six feet high with two large, well-developed ears, and a large vine of blackeye beans covered with long, well-filled pods.

H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, made the following comment: "Considering the fact that the drainage system has been in operation less than two years, this is a very wonderful showing and only goes to show what can be done with water-logged or near water-logged land when properly handled."

Disaster Comes In Milk War As Dairymen Fail

The disastrous results of a "milk war" were illustrated amply at the meeting yesterday of the California Dairy council. According to reliable information, the "war" in Oakland cost producers and dealers more than a million dollars, with the end not yet in sight. Many dairymen, due to the price cutting competition, were forced to sell their herds and close out their business at the best price they could get, it was declared. The council adopted a resolution urging that certain of the firms in the "war" combine to stabilize the situation and bring the war to an end.

FARM BUREAU DELEGATES IN ANNUAL MEET

Policies Which Federation Will Follow to Be Adopted at San Francisco

BY A. M. STANLEY
Secretary Manager, Farm Bureau
Delegates from 42 California counties will convene at Hotel Stewart, San Francisco, today in the sixth annual state meeting of the California Farm Bureau federation. In addition to hearing reports of the farm bureau activities throughout the nation, the delegates will establish the policies which the organization will pursue in the future.

Consider Highway Policy
One of the problems that will be called to the farmers' attention is the burning question of the state highway policy. Many people interested in this matter maintain the present policy smacks of "pork barrel" politics. As a remedy, it has been suggested that a policy be adopted by the highway commission which would require the county or contiguous territory to show more than a mere demand for state highway construction.

Working under the theory that "God helps those who help themselves," several state leaders declare that the state should not spread concrete except where the most interested property owners provided a solid foundation. This would naturally resolve into a policy of the counties doing the grading while the state did the paving. Such a policy would be hard on the mountain counties but would give a greater service to those who pay most.

Discuss Taxation
The question of taxation and equalization will also be an issue before the convention. This is a subject that will be a bone of contention in state economic circles during the next few years. For some months past, and before the bitter agitation began, the state bureau has performed some minor investigation in regards to the taxation system of California. It is probable that an effort to create a fund to complete this study will be made at the convention.

Plant quarantine matters will be discussed at this meeting, and many of the delegates recognizing the importance of this subject, will stay over to attend the Farmers and Fruit Growers convention, which is held annually under the auspices of the state department of agriculture.

SEVEN YEARS WILL BE GIVEN TO TASK

Experiments are being started to create the best drought-resistant corn for western Kansas farms, says a dispatch from Wichita.

Harvey J. Sconce, noted plant breeder of Sidell, Ill., and George Theis Jr., Wichita ranch owner, will conduct the experiments with co-operation from experts of the Kansas State Agricultural College.

Sconce is collecting approximately 50,000 ears of corn, representing 20 varieties of the best drought-resistant early maturing grain.

Seven Years
It is believed that it will take seven years to complete the experiments. The method for determining the best grain will be by elimination of the unfit and by breeding the best variations together. There will be cross hybridizing within and between varieties. Special strains and lines will be developed to bring out desired characteristics.

Strong Winds
The severe winds which blow across the plains of western Kansas are frequently destructive to corn plants.

When these winds are accompanied with rain or hail, they often lower entire corn fields.

One of the chief requirements for the new corn grain to be developed is that the corn stalks they produce must be strong enough to resist heavy winds.

As much of the Kansas corn is ruined in the fertilizing period of the young kernel by heat destroying the pollen, efforts will also be centered upon plants that will fertilize the young ears either before or after the periods of extreme heat.

An elaborate system of records will be kept. The progress of each ear of corn planted will be noted and recorded for reference.

GROWERS OF PERSIMMONS WILL CONVE

High School Cafeteria to Serve Meal Featuring "Pucker" Fruit

The third annual field day for persimmon growers of Southern California has been set for Saturday, November 7, at the Tustin union high school auditorium, the farm advisor's office here has announced.

The morning session will embrace a number of discussions on the packing and marketing of persimmons. Prof. E. F. Erdman, head of the division of rural economics, University of California, has been secured by the persimmon growers department of the farm bureau to discuss the need for better distribution and marketing methods in the persimmon industry.

Experiences in packing and shipping persimmons to the eastern markets will be presented by several local growers and shippers, including A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana, George W. Sherwood, Fullerton, chairman of the persimmon growers department of the farm bureau, and one of the largest growers and shippers of persimmons in the northern part of the county, George B. Shattuck, manager of the Golden West Citrus association, will report on the results from last year's cold storage. Growers attending the meeting have been urged by the farm advisor's office to bring specimens of the various persimmon varieties. Local nurserymen have arranged for a display of nursery stock. The luncheon to be served by the Tustin high school cafeteria department will feature different ways in which persimmons may be prepared including salads and desserts.

Four persimmon groves will be visited following the luncheon, the discussions in the field to be in charge of H. E. Wahlberg, farm advisor. The groves to be visited include the McFadden-Walker planting of 160 acres near Irvine, where inter-planting with citrus will be seen, and the Fink brothers grove at Tustin, which produced over 12 tons to the acre last year. The group will then go to Flacencia to the McCarthy ranch to view the bearing Lotus tree whose fruit is used for seedling root stock. The last stop will be made at the place of George W. Sherwood of Fullerton to view varieties and the packing plant.

MAKES COLLECTION OF STATE'S INSECTS
A collection of all known species of Kansas insects is the goal toward which the Department of Entomology at the Kansas Agricultural College is aiming. The department's collection, started in 1879, now has become so complete that in a few years this goal will be attained. Six hundred standard insect collection boxes are now required to house the collection. This collection has been in a large part built up by contributions from state naturalists.

Texas May Supply U. S. With Rubber

ALPINE, Tex., Oct. 28.—More than 1,000,000 acres of wild and semi-arid land in the upper border region of Texas may supply part of America's rubber needs.

This region is again covered with a commercial growth of guayule shrubs.

It is from these shrubs that rubber was formerly extracted.

Fifteen years ago a guayule rubber factory was constructed at Marathon, a few miles east of here, and operated successfully until the wild growth was exhausted.

The reappearance of the guayule plants has led many persons to believe that extensive rubber manufacturing will soon be under way in Texas.

Interest On Short Time Loans Is Cut
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Interest rates on short-time loans for agricultural purposes in the U. S. have declined materially in the last 10 years.

This decrease is noticed especially in regions where the cost of such loans was formerly unusually high.

The decline has been most marked in the southern and mountain states where the interest rates on short-term bank loans declined as much as 2.6.

According to estimates, there is at present $3,000,000,000 loaned out on short-time notes for agricultural purposes.

SPRAYERS FREEZE
Extensive damage is reported to have been caused to sprayers by the first freeze of the year in many farm districts. The damage can be prevented by draining all of the water from the sprayer.

HOT DISH NECESSARY
Among the requirements listed for the school child's lunch is one hot dish. Nutrition experts say that arrangements should be made in all schools to provide the children with at least one hot dish.

FEWER FARMS CULTIVATED IS BUREAU REPORT

Agricultural America in the past five years has undergone profound changes, resulting in a loss in the total number of farms under cultivation, according to the 1925 farm census, results of which are announced by the census bureau today.

The total number of farms in the United States at the present time was placed at 6,372,608 compared with 6,448,443 in 1920, a decrease of 75,735 farms or 1.2 percent of the total. The bare figures, however, do not tell the story of farm abandonments and the subdivision of great ranches into small units which has disguised the extent of the decline.

South Hardest Hit
Abandonments were greater in the south than elsewhere. The west compensated somewhat for this loss by turning in an increase but this increase was somewhat at the expense of great ranches and ranges which were cut up into smaller units without increase of acreage.

The general trend, it has been shown, is toward more intensive operation with the small truck and poultry farm replacing the larger acreage where diversified farming had been the practice.

Coast Ranches Increase
The number of ranches along the Pacific slopes increased 31,413 in the five year period, it was shown. In California, the increase was 15.9 percent, in Oregon 11.4 percent and in Washington 10.5 percent.

An increase of 23.7 percent was indicated in the number of farms in Nevada, while Montana showed a decrease of 18.4 percent since 1920. Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado also showed decreases, while New Mexico, Arizona and Utah increased in number.

Will your New Home be easy to sell?

"Check" Seal wiring is a recognized advantage

Nowadays one of the first things prospective home-buyers look for is completeness and quality of the electric installation. No home is salable which lacks convenient connections for electrical appliances, correct lighting and the installation of standard wiring devices.

If for no other reason than to make your home easy to sell, you should insist on "Check" Seal electrical wiring before you build or buy. The "Check" Seal identifies qualified electrical contractors who make your house a real home of electrical comfort. And when you need electrical appliances, remember that the "Check" Seal identifies electrical retailers who sell quality electrical merchandise.

Better Get Rid of Your Rheumatic Pains and Twinges—NOW

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRUH, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed C. S. Kelley Drug Co. and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRUH with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.—Adv.

SCHOOL BOARD DELAYS ACTION ON FRATERNITY ORGANIZATION UNTIL FURTHER STUDY OF LAW

Pending further investigation of the state law governing the subject, including opinions handed down by the attorney general and various county attorneys, no action will be taken by the Santa Ana board of education that might be construed as an implied or conditional assent to the organization of fraternities in the high school or in the junior college.

Such an attitude was indicated at the board of education meeting, held yesterday afternoon, when the question of allowing fraternities in those institutions was presented by Principal D. K. Hammond.

Determined opposition to fraternities was voiced by Charles F. Smith, a member of the board. Calling attention to the prohibitory provisions of the California school law, which includes junior colleges, he maintained that for the board to give its assent to such organization, would make the board primarily responsible for a violation of law.

Would Violate Spirit
Trustee Smith was supported in his contentions by Secretary F. L. Andrews, a member of the board, who thought that it would be unwise for the school board to countenance a proposition which, though modified to get around the law, would violate its spirit. He pointed to an opinion handed down by the attorney general, which is to the effect that the law includes junior colleges.

A more liberal attitude in interpreting the school law so as to allow fraternities and sororities in the junior college was urged by Trustees Marshall L. Keeler and Dr. Roy S. Horton.

"The students in the junior college are men and women, sufficiently trained to assume responsibility, and I believe that they should be treated as such," remarked Keeler. He added that the rules and regulations governing the conduct of junior college students should be framed to maintain the self-respect of individual students.

Hard to Draw Line
Another circumstance which, in the opinion of Trustee Smith, makes it hard to draw a line in rules governing high school students and those in the junior college, is the fact that both institutions are housed in the same plant. To have one set of rules for high school students and another for junior college students would be most demoralizing, Smith declared.

Exception to this line of reasoning was registered by Trustee Keeler, who declared that the two institutions are entirely separate, and should be treated so. "Any high school boy who thinks that he should be accorded the same privileges as a college student is on the wrong track," he asserted.

In his presentation of the subject, Principal Hammond made it clear that while he would favor the organization of fraternities and sororities in the junior college, he would be opposed to such a move in the high school.

PREACHER AND DOCTOR SPEAK TO BANK MEN

The banker's health, as viewed by a physician, and the banker's responsibilities, as viewed by a minister of the gospel, were presented in two addresses delivered last night to the members of the Orange County Bankers' Ass'n. meeting at the First National bank, Santa Ana.

The meeting was presided over by Frank J. W., vice-president of the First National and president of the county association. Following the business meeting, a number of amusing stories were told and songs were sung by Andy Anderson, accompanied on the piano by "Sunny" Sundquist.

That a banker by all means should develop some hobby that takes him out of doors frequently, was declared by Dr. J. I. Clark. In that connection, Dr. Clark paid tribute to golf as especially fitted to give a business man the relaxation and exercise that he needs. A vacation well away from business affairs at least once a year was advised by the speaker.

The responsibility of the banker as an advisor in business affairs was commented upon by the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

"It is a banker's business and his responsibility as well," said the minister, "at times to say things to a customer that may be very unpleasant to hear."

"It is his duty to resist speculation on his part. It might be his right, if he were a private citizen, not connected with a bank, to speculate, but as a banker he has no such right."

Following the meeting, the bankers were given a Halloween spread in the safety deposit section of the bank. Tables had been attractively decorated with centerpieces of yellow and black. Young women of the bank, wearing bonnets and aprons of Halloween colors, served.

EL CENTRO—Dredges operated by the Imperial Irrigation district in carrying out its drainage program have excavated 7,600,407 cubic yards of earth since the work was begun, according to a report to the directors by F. W. Slattery of the engineering department. One hundred forty-three miles of new canals have been constructed to date. The cost of the drainage work is being paid by the sale of bonds issued by the irrigation district two years ago. The drainage bond issue was $2,500,000. Of this amount, nearly one-fourth is declared to be available for further work.

RIALTO—The ground has been broken and the foundation is now being laid for the first unit of the Rialto Woman's clubhouse on the site at North Riverside avenue. Some trees have been planted in the grounds and a large sanitary fountain was installed in front of the lot some time ago. The structure just started will contain an auditorium with seating capacity of 300, lobby, two cloak rooms, which may be used as ticket offices when needed, stage with three dressing rooms, a kitchen with two sinks and plenty of cupboards, a basement room beneath the stage part of which will be equipped for use as a club nursery.

SAN BERNARDINO—Drilling at the Del Rosa Oil company's well, northeast of the city, where operations were begun a year ago, is continuing at a depth of 2400 feet. That the financiers of the project are not discouraged and are determined to sink the shaft to a deep level in their explorations for oil was announced by directors of the corporation. The drilling will continue until oil has been struck or the reports of geologists that the shaft will penetrate oil deposits have been disproved, it was announced.

RIVERSIDE—A hospital that will adequately take care of the needs of Riverside county has been designed by an architect and the first unit has been started. The county board of supervisors has a plan for the building of a modern, well-equipped hospital, one that will take 15 years for its completion. The unit started this week after the permit for $300,000 had been taken out, will be only a small part of the entire collection of buildings. It is specified as the woman's ward by architects and contractors but when first finished will be used to house the elderly men.

CALIPATRIA—Cotton planters are worried over the shortage of pickers in the north end of the valley. The shortage is said to be due to the strict enforcement of the immigration regulations which has worked to prevent the annual influx of Mexican cotton pickers. Usually many families of pickers return to Imperial valley from the northern part of the state, but this year the number of visiting pickers is much less than usual.

CHEST COMMITTEE WILL REPORT SOON

Preliminary arrangements for the annual community chest drive, November 15 to 21, will be taken up by the campaign committee as soon as the budget committee has filed its report, it was announced today by Roland Dye, campaign manager.

A. T. McFadden is chairman of the budget committee, which includes Frank L. Andrews, W. B. Williams, Harry W. Lewis and E. B. Sprague. The report of the committee, setting forth the needs of each organization participating in the chest, Manager Dye added, will be ready within a few days.

Organization plans outlined by Dye call for four divisions, one of which will be composed entirely of American Legion members. The legion division will be commanded by G. R. Scovill. Other division commanders are W. D. Rudd, John Estes and W. V. Whitson.

According to Manager Dye, the greatest need at this time is the enlistment and organization of campaign workers. Already close to 100 workers have volunteered their services, but as many as 250 are needed to canvass every prospective contributor, it was explained.

AUXILIARY IS TO FETE POST ON HALLOWE'EN

Santa Ana members of the American Legion auxiliary are busy today decorating the Legion hall on Birch street with pumpkins, cornstalks and other autumn decorations, in preparation for the annual Halloween party and dance to be held there tomorrow night.

Each year the auxiliary gives to the Santa Ana American Legion post a masquerade party and dance. This year's party is expected to be the largest in the history of the auxiliary.

More than 100 couples are expected to attend and there will be "plenty doin'" throughout the evening, according to Mrs. Eugene Robinson, president of the auxiliary, who stated that fortune-telling booths would be erected for the ex-servicemen who would like to know when there will be another war and that, for those who do not dance, card games will be in progress in the reading room of the hall.

A good orchestra has been secured for the dance and there will be plenty of pumpkin pie and cider to serve throughout the evening.

All persons who attend the party must wear masks, and Halloween costumes will be the form of dress for the evening. "We want everyone to come to the dance all dressed up, and we want all Legionnaires to know they can bring anybody they choose, mother, sister, sweetheart, or what have you?" Mrs. Robinson remarked today.

Miss Louise Tubbs, chairman of the entertainment committee of the auxiliary, will be in charge of the party and dance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—"Broncho Billy," famed in early motion picture films, and one-time part owner in the old Essanay Film company, is broke and dependent upon relatives for a living.

These were the statements that "Billy," whose name is G. M. Anderson, made in court here in explaining why he could not pay anything on a judgment of $5081 due Nicholas Widder, New York musical publisher.

Anderson said he had been unable to work for seven years because of illness and asserted his only income was money sent him from time to time by relatives.

For Sale—At Taylor's Cannery, 1644 E. 4th, broken pear and watermelon pickles, $1.50 per gal. Bring your own containers.

Anaheim Girl Tells How Night Was Celebrated When Ireland Was Young

Old Time
"Hark! Did you hear that sound in the grass?"
Mayhap a witch or a ghost did pass.
Was that the lone owl's cry?
Is that the wind among the trees?
What voice is whispering in the breeze?
Are spirits really nigh?"

New Time
"Hark! Did you hear that sound in the grass?"
Mayhap some mischief-makers pass;
There's laughter in their cry.
This is the night for girls and boys,
For games and pranks and stunts and noise;
With lanterns gleaming high."

By MYRTLE CLEMMER.

ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—In the olden days our grandparents bobbed for apples in a big washtub of water and it was great fun to get faces and heads wet in the splashing that followed the effort to secure the wriggling fruit. They told weird ghost stories around the fireside and made merry over the mock secrets revealed by fortune telling. They carried away from town wagons, unhinged gates, hung wagon wheels in trees, and used tick-tacks to frighten the people within the house. After the pranks had begun for the night, they returned to each other's homes from time to time to eat apples and nuts.

Frighten Spirits With Fire
Long ago, in Ireland, it was (and in some parts still is) a custom to light huge bonfires on the hill tops in an effort to ward away the evil spirits said to hover near on All-Hallows' Eve. It was the superstitions fear of the Unknown that prompted the Irish to this. Magic seemed to abound at this time. It is also a custom (in Ireland) at Halloween when the young women wish to know if their lovers are faithful, to place three nuts upon the bars of the grate, naming the nuts after the lovers. If a nut cracks or jumps, the lover will prove unfaithful; if it begins to blaze or burn, he has a regard for the person making the trial. If the nuts named after the girl and her lover burn together they will be married.

Pull Kail-stalks
Kail-stocks are pulled in the garden. If it is large or small the future husband or wife of the puller will be so, also. The quantity of the soil adhering to the root denotes the amount of the dowry; and the taste of the pitch denotes the temper.

Now—most of the meriment is in the form of parades, dances, parties, and divers other sundry diversions of merry-making. Carrying of pumpkins with hideous faces is still a Halloween rite. Masquerading in queer and characteristic clothing is a division of the night's meriment. Also, the tripping of pedestrians and carrying away property is done solely to enter wholeheartedly in the pranks.

No Superstition Now

The difference between the old-fashioned and present-day Halloween is that superstition predominated then and pranks hold full sway now.

30 Students Turn Out for Cheer Club

By TOM MEW
GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—Over 30 peppy students turned out at the first meeting of the Rooters Club Monday.

Those present chose for their officers the rooters cap, a hat and white reversible felt cap with the letters G. G. H. S. in front.

ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—The first business meeting of La Junta Espanol was held last Monday.

Officers for the current year were elected as follows: Marjorie Watts, president; Mary Jane VanBoven, vice-president; Marvin Walton, secretary; James Wirths, treasurer.

A social meeting was held Tuesday evening. Entertainment (a la moda espanola) was offered under the management of Miss Florence Backs and committee.

Whoever calls a football a pigskin is all wrong; it's a calfskin. In the early days in England the boys kicked a pig's bladder around, but now the football cover is made of good double grain calfskin.

leather. Therefore a football is not a pigskin.

There isn't a bit of use in moping about that game at Fullerton. The thing to mope about is the poor spirit shown before the game, in so unceremoniously decorating certain Fullerton buildings with paint.

Although the Colonists were defeated at Fullerton, yet the boys put up a gallant fight and Fullerton knew that their opponents were playing football.

The students turned out fine for this game and cheered the boys very well, but Jack Royalty cannot lead all the yells himself and we should have at least one more or possibly two more yell leaders to get all the pep and fight out of the rooters.

Tustin Tid Bits

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—Miss Emma B. Hield, teacher of journalism at Tustin union high school, hopes to have a number of the members of her classes attend the annual fall convention of the Southern California High School Press association in Glendale November 6. Principal Means has always been very good about allowing the students to attend the press conventions and it is expected that he will approve of the visit to the convention this year if the students and teacher can arrange to make the trip.

Tustin has started the ball rolling toward the early organization of the Orange County High School Press Ass'n. Because the last meeting of the spring semester was not held, the first meeting date falls to Fullerton high school to act as hosts. New journalism teachers have been employed at Garden Grove, Anaheim, Huntington Beach, Orange, Fullerton and Garden Grove and to them the working of the association will be entirely new. Because so much good was obtained from the sessions last year, the Tustin students are very anxious to see the program under way again this year.

Although Tustin high school is one of the smaller high schools of the county, its building is probably viewed by more people every day than any other high school in the county. This is due to the fact that it is located close to the San Diego highway with its never-ending stream of cars. With its spacious green lawn and contrasting buff of the building the school plant is considered an excellent advertisement for Orange county and Tustin especially.

Already talk of Thanksgiving day can be heard in the halls when school is not in session. Several of the teachers will go out of town to spend the holiday with their families. As for many of the students, they can hardly wait until the festive bird is passed and if it were possible to do so the calendar would be advanced at once. But, oftentimes, after Thanksgiving has come and gone, one is sorry it came so quick. But after Thanksgiving there is Christmas.

A luncheon consisting largely of dishes made from persimmons will be served by the domestic science department to the persimmon growers of the county when they meet at Tustin high school for their field day in November.

Principal Holds

Football Is One

Of Best Sports

By CLARICE CAMPBELL

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—One of my earliest recollections was that of falling out of bed and breaking my collar bone. But I did not quit sleeping in beds. So said Principal A. D. Hoenschel last week in assembly to illustrate a point he was making concerning football.

He stated that even though Harry Munn broke his collar bone and several other Grove boys had been injured in football, Garden Grove did not think of discontinuing this sport.

Reading from a magazine article, Mr. Hoenschel gave the story of a player on the football team of a large Eastern college. This college man broke his arm early in an important game, but he kept on through the game even though he suffered agony with every move. He was the one who took the ball over the line and made the only touchdown of the day for his team.

In concluding his talk, Mr. Hoenschel told the students that he considered football an excellent all-round sport.

Boys Glee Club

Gives Plays to

Aid C. E. Girls

By CHARLES CRAFTS

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—Friday evening, Oct. 23, the Boys' Glee club of this school gave a short operetta, "Freshie," and a one-act play, "Gracie," at the church hall in Westminster, to aid the girls of the Christian Endeavor society in their pledge to the church hall debt.

After the boys had given their plays they were invited to stay at a little spread which proved to be a real "feed," consisting of salad, hot chocolate, sandwiches, ice cream and cake.

After everyone had partaken of all the refreshment he could stand, thanks were expressed by the church people and the boys for the favors received.

Recall Political

War Flames Anew

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Political warfare flamed here today with one faction seeking recall of Mayor Hugh McNeill as result of removal of Chief of Police Louise Belloni and Patrolman Walter Miller on demand of the mayor, by a 3 to 2 trustees vote.

The political fight started two months ago after Capt. Charles Goff, then dry administrator, called this town "the wettest" in the United States. Mayor McNeill served notice on Belloni to "clean up" the town.

Mayor McNeill named Charles Stetler, steel worker, as new chief and appointed Paul Parascanni, an electrician, as patrolman.

Auto Backfires;

Loss Is $30,000

REDDING, Calif., Oct. 28.—Estimates today placed the loss at $30,000 in the fire on the Cottonwood fruit farm of Hiram Johnson Jr. and Archie Coates. Coates was severely burned when the automobile he was driving backfired, starting the blaze. Included in the burned property was the automobile, 150 tons of dried prunes, and warehouse and drying equipment.

SIX GIRLS ENTER CLASS IN AUTOMOBILE MECHANICS FOR KNOWLEDGE OF CAR SYSTEM

By JOSEPHINE ROY
TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—Desire for more knowledge of how to care for an automobile and repair it if one has been held up on a lonely road, far from home and aid, has caused six girls to enroll for the elective course of girls' auto shop held at noon during the thirty minute periods, on Monday and Wednesday of each week.

ALUMNI DAY AT ANAHEIM H. S. IS SUCCESSFUL

By OWEN GALVIN

ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—Friday, Oct. 16, was Alumni Day at Anaheim union high school. There were 90 graduates attending the banquet held in the school cafeteria at 6:30 o'clock. Raymond Neblung of the class of '09 presided at the dinner. Many of the 1925 graduates were welcomed into the Alumni association. Plans were made for a big celebration to be held between Christmas and New Year's day.

The faculty and student body welcomed the alumni at an assembly held at 11:30 o'clock in the morning. Several of the alumni took part in this assembly, giving some pieces on the piano, two vocal selections, and speeches. A special edition of the Anoranco contained letters from the alumni attending colleges and universities, reminiscences, etc.

After the assembly the alumni were invited to attend the various classes. Many attended the football game in the afternoon at Fullerton, the first league game played by Anaheim and Fullerton. Although Anaheim lost, it was a game well worth seeing and all those attending were amply repaid.

The alumni turned out en masse to attend the Alumni play "The Torchbearers," a three-act farce chosen by their own members.

Each year the dramatics department of the Alumni association put on a play for the scholarship fund. The play this year was a great success both dramatically and financially, a crowd estimated at 800 attending the performance. The high school auditorium was practically full.

"The Torchbearers" is a burlesque of the "Little Theater" movement and a satirical slam at the woman who would sacrifice home and husband for a "career" on the stage.

Jean McElheny played the wife "Paula Ritter" and Marvin Rose was excellent as "Mr. Ritter."

"Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli," the "character" lead, was amply filled by Mrs. Faye Kern Schulz. Kathryn Cravath was fine in the hilarious rendition of "Mrs. Nelly Fell."

Mrs. Fern Amack, Clifton Howell, Philip Bastian, Claude Preston, Florence Findley, Myrtle Winters, and Orville Redden, besides those previously mentioned, all deserve credit for their acting. Miss Lucille Bickley deserves much credit for the directing of this play.

"Gambol" Yields

Neat Sum for

Student Body

By ROSEMARY THOMASON

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—One hundred and thirty dollars was added to the student body fund as a result of the Garden Gambol last Friday night.

The whole program went off with a "bang." The wonderful opera singer, Madame Suzzette, proved to be Frances Bragg, and Paderewski, Kathryn Kiven.

The orchestra was original as a large Italian family, and the dances the girls gym classes gave were unique and pretty.

The last act, under the direction of Mr. Doig, was in the form of a ridiculous prize fight where a very large man fought a very small man; of course the little man won.

New Dictionaries

Bought at Grove

By MARVIN RYAN

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—New dictionaries have been placed on teachers' desks at Garden Grove. These new dictionaries contain 140,000 words and are the largest unabridged dictionaries published.

The library has many new books by such authors as Brownings, Tennyson, Shelly, Hutchinson, Noyes and Whitman.

The science department has had an instrument to demonstrate Boyle's law added to its apparatus.

Chili Peppers from Garden Grove

By MABEL JONES.

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Oct. 28.—"Friends, Romans, Countrymen, lend me your ears," and I'll tell you just why Garden Grove Union High School students have become Argonauts. Those who have heard the story of the Argonauts will recall how a small band of men once sailed forth in the good ship "Argus" to discover and take possession of the golden fleece, and how after many hardships they won this fleece.

Garden Grove students intend to gain the golden fleece, the fleece of honor, of courage, and of square dealing.

The Argonauts of old never gave up and admitted defeat. The Argonauts of today, with this fine example of bravery before them have started, at the lowest rung of the ladder to fame, and are mounting step by step to the heights where the golden fleece awaits in the breeze.

"Though the road be steep, Though the pitfalls deep, And the battle swift and steady; Every honor gained is a step attained. Each conflict will find us ready."

What a hush of expectancy now that the first quarter of school is almost over! Students concentrate on different subjects, perhaps for the first time, and teachers spend hours thinking of catchy questions and exercises to test "Johnny's" ability. Rumors of examinations are everywhere, and many students spend many minutes trying to decide just what part of a certain book will be covered in the quarterly quiz.

At this time a fitting subject for a debate would be, "How do students preserve the color and luster of their hair during examination week?" This question might cause some embarrassment, for there are many shades of hair dye and there are many books which are never opened until examination day.

E. Merle Hussong, editor of the Junior Register, visited Garden Grove high school this week and spoke to Miss Pumphrey's journalism class. Mr. Hussong confined his talk chiefly to two points, the necessity of putting the who, the where, the why, the when, and the how in the first paragraph of news articles, and the necessity of a student reporter getting the right view point as concerns his work.

A reporter should never allow his own opinions to creep into his articles, the Junior Register editor said, it being the function of the reporter to reflect the impressions and opinions of others, rather than his own.

Garden Grove journalism students want to change the name of the column in the Junior Register known as "Chili Peppers" to Argonauts. If a Garden Grove student can draw a suitable heading to replace the "Chili Peppers" design, the change will be made, according to Mr. Hussong.

EVENING SALUTATION

There is no standing still! Even as I pause, The steep path shifts, and I slip back space; Movement was safety; by the journey-laws No help is given, no safe abiding-place, No idling in the pathway hard and slow; I must go forward, or must backward go.

—Susan Coolidge.

THE FRATERNITY QUESTION

Even in colleges and universities, the value of a fraternity is a mooted question. Its worth in a high school is beyond discussion; the fraternity there is plainly an outgrowth, without benefits for either the school that harbors them nor for the members of the fraternities themselves. Its place in the junior college is now up for discussion, with the faculty and the school board each divided upon it.

Disquieting information comes to The Register from time to time indicating that a number of high school pupils have not been co-operating with school authorities in efforts to follow the mandates of the state law in relation to high school "frats." Parents have been charged with aiding and abetting their sons in notions concerning the alleged smartness to be found in belonging to a "frat." These same parents would fall over in holy horror if their sons became bootleggers or smugglers, yet in aiding them in breaking the state law they are giving them some very good lessons in law-breaking.

The fraternity question is one that springs up occasionally in several of the high schools of the state. San Diego High school, a year ago, went through a serious riot over it. Last year, too, the principal of Fresno High school received proof that two members of the football team had violated their obligations to the school by joining a fraternity made up partly of high school students and partly of smart young men outside of high school. Promptly, the two football players were ruled out of the games.

Frankly, we are wondering if Santa Ana High school's football team is not traveling toward a similar fall. And if it does come to a situation in which members of the football team are taken out of the play, who is to be blamed?

Surely, not the school authorities, for last spring every high school boy was told exactly the lay of the ground. He was told that membership in a fraternity is against the state law, and would not be tolerated, that any boy found to be a member of a fraternity would be taken out of school activities. It was plainly said. If any boy has remained a fraternity member and has become a member of the football team and has allowed the team to be built up with him as a part of it, knowing as he does what the penalty of membership in a fraternity is, he has put himself in a position of playing traitor to his school.

The influence of legalized fraternities in the junior college would be to encourage outlaw fraternities in the high school. With the two institutions closely allied, as they are, it would be hard to show that a fraternity in one is utterly not to be desired and in the other is a fine and commendable thing.

No, the Florida land boom isn't like the California gold rush. The Florida fortune-hunters take their gold with them.

TAX REDUCTION

It looks as if the leading business of the country for the next three months or so will be reducing federal taxes. So everybody might as well get into the game. It's everybody's business, anyhow. The hearings opened at Washington by the House committee, with Secretary Mellon's recommendations, make a good starter.

Inasmuch as the small incomes benefitted most by the last reduction, it is right that the large incomes should have an inning now. There will be little objection to lowering the surtaxes about one-half, to relieve the few fellows and stimulate business enterprise. That is, provided the little fellows can still feel that they are sharing as fully as they should in the cutting of these tax melons. There must be some cutting all along the line.

If the Treasury program really includes, as it is understood to, the repeal of the "earned income" exemption, Mr. Mellon may expect hostility on that point if not elsewhere. That exemption was warmly welcomed last year, not only because it meant a saving to so large a class of taxpayers but because it is considered proper in principle. Most citizens agree that income obtained by useful work deserves more consideration than income derived from capital or gifts, without current effort.

There will be plenty of argument about the proper exemption level above which income taxes are to be levied, as well as about the rates.

There will be endless argument, too, about the value of the federal inheritance tax, which if it is not repealed is sure to be greatly modified.

Canada boasts that she "welcomes anyone willing to work." The United States, it sometimes seems, welcomes anyone willing to buy.

THE AUTOGYRO

A new term appears in aviation. The vehicle of the future may be of the "autogyro" type. An aircraft of that name made by a Spaniard in England is built with the usual planes but with a "gyro" on top to raise and lower the plane. That facilitates starting and landing, the hardest problems left in aviation.

The "gyro" is a sort of propeller built in the shape of a horizontal windmill with four wings. A curious thing about these is that they are said to flap like a bird's—something that hardly seems essential. A bird wouldn't flap his wings up and down if he could rotate them. But possibly the inventor knows what he is doing. Anyway, his absurd-looking machine flies, and rises almost vertically, and lets itself down easily. Future progress will be largely along these lines, if there is to be a popular and safe aircraft for general use.

"DISAPPOINTING PRICES"

"From a current business review: 'The failure of commodity prices to advance with the gradual upswing in general business activity has been the chief disappointing feature of autumn business up to the present time.'"

This is a curious statement, to the average citizen. Perhaps business commentators do not realize how curious it is. They somehow always seem to assume that the test of prosperity is high prices. They strangely overlook the fact that consumers—including nearly everybody—take small pleasure in high prices. They usually find high commodity rates as "disappointing" as the professional business observers find low rates. And this is not necessarily short-sighted on the consumers' part.

"Which is better?" a consumer may ask. "That a few people in control of commodities shall sell their products dear, or that the many who buy shall get them cheap?"

True, low prices are traditionally associated with hard times, and it is easier to pay high prices when the consumer has the money than to pay low prices when he hasn't. But anyone today may question whether low prices and business dullness necessarily go together. Certainly the moderate commodity prices recently prevailing are not connected with a business slump.

The very statement quoted above confesses to "the up-swing of business activity." The plain fact is, as a non-expert observer reads facts, that business today is not only active but prosperous, and that the failure of prices to soar as they used to do at such times is the combined result of nature's bounty and better business methods.

GOGGLES FOR PARIS

"Those dreadful American spectacles" are dreadful no more. Parisiennes are wearing them now, and not so much for their eyes as for style. The frames are made in many colors, suited to the wearer's complexion or costume.

So great is the vogue of these disfigurements that Paris beauties are putting them on like so much jewelry. An American optician says he is selling about 100 pairs a day equipped not with lenses but "with plain glass, through which any one can see."

Americans can't quite see that. They ought to shudder at the extent to which their own taste in blunders has gone. Yet the Parisiennes may know what they are doing. A certain amount of ugliness is said to heighten beauty. These goggles are "beauty spots." But from them it is only a step to nose-rings.

More Religion Needed

Long Beach Press-Telegram

"I can conceive of no adequate remedy for the evils which beset society except through the influence of religion." These are the words of President Coolidge. They were addressed to an assemblage of churchmen. Better observance of law is needed in this country. More religion is needed. "Lawlessness is altogether too prevalent, and a lack of respect for government and the conventions of enlightened society is altogether too apparent."

Mr. Coolidge, in his notable utterances, goes on to say that "if there are any general failures in the enforcement of the law it is because there have been first general failures in the disposition to observe the law."

Furthermore, there is no form of education, government or reward "which will not fail; redemption must come through sacrifice, and sacrifice is the essence of religion."

Here is a timely message of exhortation and warning to this Christian nation from its Christian President. The rising tide of lawlessness and disrespect for conventions and for constituted authority is apparent to all who observe and study the trend of the times. It is startling—even appalling. It denotes a lack of sincere application of the principles and precepts of religion. Mr. Coolidge summons the people to rally under the banners of religion to thwart this too-prevalent reign of disrespect for law. It is a message and a summons deserving of earnest consideration by every well-meaning person.

HEART DISEASE OFTEN FOLLOWS RHEUMATISM

Rheumatic fever or rheumatism, as it is sometimes called, is a disease of almost universal interest. It is fairly common, though not as frequent today as it was a number of years ago. Patients with rheumatic fever make up from 3 to 7 per cent of the total sick admitted to our large hospitals.

Once rheumatism develops, it often resists treatment; or, there may be repeated attacks and the disease may become sub-acute or chronic. Even when the patient has fairly recovered, there may be left painful reminders, such as aching, or somewhat stiffened joints.

The worst feature of rheumatism, is the fact that it is often the direct cause of heart disease.

There is no doubt but what rheumatic fever proper is an acute, infectious disease caused by a germ or germs. It is probable that there may be several different diseases included under the term, "rheumatism," as commonly used.

Muscular rheumatism is a term applied to affections of the muscles as distinguished from affections of joints. Lumbago is a term applied to muscular rheumatism affecting the large muscles of the back. Painful points under the shoulder blades in the back are commonly due to this same condition.

There may also be painful conditions due to the same cause in the muscles of the chest which may lead the patient to suppose he has heart disease or pleurisy. Such pains are superficial and while they may sometimes be severe, they may easily be distinguished from pains caused by disease in deeper structures.

The following causes are listed as being possible pre-disposing causes of rheumatism, namely: enlarged tonsils, adenoids, and diseased teeth or gums, particularly pyorrhea.

To be exposed to cold—to remain for some time in wet clothing—to get thoroughly or repeatedly chilled, may, it is believed, lead to an attack of rheumatism directly or it is thought that in some cases, the rheumatism may follow tonsillitis, a cold or some other acute respiratory condition which may have been caused by the exposure.

It is well to avoid exposure—and one should learn that colds and sore throats are not trivial matters.

Care of the teeth is important and a visit to your dentist is recommended at least once in six months.

Rheumatism usually develops quite suddenly. It may follow immediately an attack of sore throat or tonsillitis or there may be an interval of a week or ten days of perfect health following such an attack before the disease develops.

One should always take the best possible care of his health; his clothing should be adequate and suitable to the temperature; dampness should be avoided; a well balanced diet should be taken, guarding against overeating or of eating too much of one kind of food and too little of other kinds.

If there is any diseased condition of the teeth or gums, of the throat or of the tonsils, then certainly these should be attended to whether you have rheumatism or not.

Nipped in the Bud

Spending and Saving

Salesmanship is the new gospel, and America is its prophet. Selling things seems sometimes the end and aim of our existence. And since for every sale there must be a buyer, there are people who fear that there is too much buying—that people part too easily with their money—that they spend too much.

Figures do not support this fear. It is shown that in America as a whole, and in nearly every American community, with all the expenditure, Americans are putting more money into the savings banks and taking out more life insurance. While the right hand spends, the left hand saves. Each hand knows what the other is doing.

The improvement of late years is undeniable. It is thrift, not stinginess. Everywhere there are families banking money, taking out insurance policies, acquiring land and building homes. The country is getting ahead none the less surely, because it is enjoying life at the same time.

Worth While Verse

THE TABLES TURNED

Up! up! my friend, and quit your books,
Or surely you'll grow double;
Up! up! my friend, and clear your looks;
Why all this toil and trouble?

The sun, above the mountain's head,
A freshening lustre mellow,
Through all the long green fields has spread
His first sweet evening yellow.

Books! It is a dull and endless strife;
Come, hear the woodland linnet,
How sweet his music; on my life
There's more of wisdom in it.
And hark! how blithe the throstle sings!
He, too, is no mean preacher;
Come forth into the light of things,
Let Nature be your teacher.

She has a world of ready wealth,
Our minds and hearts to bless,
Spontaneous wisdom breathed by health,
Truth breathed by cheerfulness.

One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of mortal evil and of good,
Than all the sages can.

Sweet is the lore which Nature brings;
Our meddling intellect
Misses the beauteous forms of things—
We murder to dissect.

Enough of science and of art!
Close up those barren leaves;
Come forth, and bring with you a heart
That watches and receives.

—William Wordsworth.

Time to Smile

NOT QUITE, BUT—

Solomon has attested to the strangeness of a man's way with a maid, but the way of a maid being courted has always been a mystery to a man. A girl dismissed her sweetheart with the statement that she could not think of marrying him until he had a few thousand dollars. A few months later she met him and asked how much he had saved. "Thirty-five dollars," he said. "Well," she remarked with a blush. "I guess that's near enough."—The Argonaut.

OUTSIDE ONLY

A private was shaving himself in the open air when his sergeant came along. Sergeant—Do you always shave outside? Of course," answered the private. "Did you think I was fur lined?"—Toronto Globe.

THE CAUSE

Mother—Can't you two children stop quarreling? Elsie—Well, mother, I wish you'd speak to Teddy—he wants to bring his caterpillar to bed with him.—Boston Transcript.

REALLY?

NOT SO HOT

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pope

I was setting on my front steps just setting there and Puds Simkins and Leroy Shooter came up saying, Hay Benny, there a swell Kut Up Comedy around at the Little Grand and us 2 are going, come on with us, go on in and ask if you can.

Wich I did, going in to ask ma and she was laying down taking a nap, me thinking, G, if I wake her up jest to ask her she'll say no before I hardly get a chance, I guess I better wake her up kind of axidentally by dropping something or something.

Wich jest then I thawt of my iron bank on account of it making so much noise wen it falls on the floor it would properly make even more if it fell all ways downstairs, and I went up and got it and put it on the top step and gave it a kind of a small axidental push and it bumped all a ways down stairs, sounding more like 5 or 6 banks than jest one on account of the carpet being up, and wen it got to the bottom wat did it do but roll rite in ma's room and bang agenset the bottom of her bewro like an explosion, properly being the last straw that woke her up if she wasent awake by that time already, saying, Benny, ware are you, Benny?

Ma? I sed. And I wawked in her room looking as innocent as possible saying, Did my bank come in heer, ma?

It flew in, thats wat it did, I never gave such an unerthly jump in my life, I thawt the boiler had exploded, and O my goodness for land sakes look at that big dent in my good bewro, ma sed.

Ware? I sed, and ma sed, Ware? You'd haff to be deff dum and blind not to see that, are you going crazy or wat, throwing your bank around like that?

I didnt throw it, ma, I was balancing it on the edge of the top step and something happened, I sed, and ma sed, Im jest balancing my hand on the end of my rist and something elts will happen if your not out of heer pritty quick.

Wich I was, and Puds and Leroy was still waiting outside, me saying, She says no.

Saving Time and Mileage

Freemont (Neb.) Tribune.

We note with extreme interest that there is a determined campaign afoot in California, agitated principally by newspapers of that state, for the development of faster transcontinental passenger schedules. The movement also contemplates faster schedules for perishable freights.

The transcontinental traveling time from San Francisco to New York is now about five days. The objective of the present campaign is to reduce that time by at least one full day. While this may seem difficult or impossible, it has been definitely proven that speed on American transcontinental lines is little more than half that on certain European railroads and is far slower than that maintained on many of the important lines between large eastern cities in our own country.

But while we are on the subject of reduced traveling time between the two coasts, there is an important point that should be called to the attention of railroad officials as well as of ambitious Californians.

Right-of-way conditions right here in eastern Nebraska offer a splendid opportunity for a substantial reduction of transcontinental mileage as well as of traveling time.

Cross country traffic at the present time is routed through Fremont over the Union Pacific via Lane cut-off (which was built several years ago at a cost of $3,000,000 to save 7 miles) to Omaha and Council Bluffs and then over the Chicago and Northwestern to Missouri Valley. The actual distance of this route between Fremont and Missouri Valley is 61.7 miles.

But the Chicago and Northwestern's main line runs direct from Fremont to Missouri Valley, and the distance of this route is exactly 37.2 miles. It is a single track road, but there is a splendid new railroad bridge over the Missouri river at Blair.

The saving of mileage between these two routes is 24.5 miles.

But more important than the saving of mileage is the saving of time. Transcontinental freight traffic now passes through the Omaha terminal, with a consequent loss of time that is estimated to be as high as six or seven hours as compared with the possible time over the more direct route.

If it seven hours of running time could be saved between San Francisco and New York by the elimination of the Omaha terminal, nearly a third of the full day reduction sought by California could be thus accomplished.

This would require only the double-tracking of the cut-off and the establishment of a division point at Fremont, a step that has been the dream of this city ever since the building of the Union Pacific system.

Railroads have been known to spend millions of dollars in the saving of less mileage than is involved in this project. It is almost safe to say that the saving of 24.5 miles on a transcontinental schedule, with the accompanying saving of six or seven hours of time is worth almost any price necessary to bring it about. But the actual expense involved in this enterprise would be ridiculously low, compared to the results achieved. The ultimate adoption of this plan is inevitable.

We offer this suggestion to the Californians who are advocating the reduction of time schedules as a logical means of gaining fully one-third of their objective. The speeding up of trains would accomplish the rest.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 9—THE MOON MAN'S FORTUNE

Nancy and Nick were having a fine time in High Jinks Land. Everyone was so jolly and light-hearted.

"How do you like it?" asked Mister Corn Dodger, shaking the ashes out of his corn-cob pipe and filling it up again with dried corn-silk.

"It's ever so jolly," said Nick. "Isn't it, Nancy?"

"Yes, it is," said Nancy, shaking her little Dutch cap until the wide wings on it flapped. "I wish we could have our fortunes told like the Scare Crow and Jack O' Lantern."

"Well, you may," said Mister Corn Dodger, kindly. "I'll ask Mrs. Gipsy if she—There! she said all at once. 'The Man-in-the-Moon is having his fortune told now. He's staying a good while. I think. He said he was just on his way to Norwich, but stopped in at High Jinks Land to say how-do-you-do to his friends.'"

"Let's hear what Mrs. Gipsy is telling him," said Nick.

So the Twins and Mister Corn Dodger crowded up close.

"Well," said Mrs. Gipsy, looking at the Man-in-the-Moon's hand, "I see many interesting things. Stars and clouds and the moon. Are you an astronomer?"

"No ma'am, I am not," said the Man-in-the-Moon, "but you might say that I am a star-gazer."

"I also see that you like high living," said Mrs. Gipsy. "That's right," said the Man-in-the-Moon. "I like to live high."

"It is strange then," said Mrs. Gipsy, "that sometimes you get very thin. Isn't that so?"

"It certainly is," said the Man-in-the-Moon. "Sometimes I am not even a quarter full. Indeed, I am only full once a month."

"You sleep all day and stay up all night," said Mrs. Gipsy. "You must be a very gay person."

"Not exactly," said the Man-in-the-Moon, winking one eye at the Hi Diddle Diddle Cat, and the other eye at the Little-Dog-That-Laughed. "I'm not so very gay, although I do go around a good bit."

"Let me see! You have some more fortune," said Mrs. Gipsy. "I see by your hand that you are a great traveler and that you have as many friends in China as anywhere. Also, you have 13 birthdays a year, you live near the Milky Way, keep the Dog Star in your back yard, and use the Great Dipper when you want to dip a drink out of the sea."

"Yes'm, said the Man-in-the-Moon. "But can you tell me the way to Norwich? I have been hunting it since last Friday a week. I've been to the South and it isn't there. I should like very much to know how to find it."

"I'll tell you," said Mrs. Gipsy. "Just follow your nose."

"Why, certainly," said the April Fool to the Three Fiddlers. "Why didn't he think of that before. He must follow his nose, of course."

"All he has to do is to follow his nose," said everyone to his neighbor.

It was quite a few minutes before the Man-in-the-Moon could make himself heard.

"But my nose is crooked," said he. "If I follow it, I shall go all wrong."

"His poor nose is crooked!" said all the High Jinks Landers to each other. "He can't follow it, so he'll never find his way to Norwich."

"Very well, then," said the Man-in-the-Moon. "I'll have to go back to where I came from. But it was a fine fortune you told me, Mrs. Gipsy. Thank you. Good-bye, everybody."

"Good-bye!" they called. "And that was the last of him! (To be continued.)"
